President Awaiting Popular Demand for Treaty

GREAT NEED TO BE SEEN SOON IS BELIEF

Friends of Administration Look For Events to Convince Public

SILENCE NOT PROOF THAT FIGHT IS OVER

Opponents Scoff at Idea That Ratification Will Be Demanded

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The attitude of the administration today with regard to the peace treaty is that of "watchful waiting."

Believing that a great popular demand for ratification will come from the country within a few weeks, President Wilson is keeping "hands off" the present situation, waiting for this urge to materialize, according to numerous indications.

The president refrained from directly mentioning the treaty in his message to congress, it is believed, with the idea that further argument was useless.

The need for it, friends of the administration predict, will steadily become more apparent. They are looking for events to convince the people that the treaty is desirable, and that no other means of bringing about official peace will do.

Fight Not Given Up
The President's silence, they assert, does not mean that he has given up the fight, or that he is any less interested in ratification than when he toured the country appealing for it. That he is "wrapped up in the treaty" was the expression used by some of his advisers in describing the situation.

Recommendation of Wilson for a third term by the state convention at Pierre, S. D., was interpreted by the President's supporters as endorsement of the treaty and as an answer to the arguments of those who claim the pact is so dead the Democrats will not want to exhumate it and make it an issue in 1920.

Opponents of the treaty openly scoff at the idea that the nation will demand ratification. They say that if any wave of popular sentiment for it were forthcoming it would have been apparent early in October, just after Wilson's tour. Many congressmen returning to Washington after talking to their constituents say there is practically no interest in the treaty, and that the people are rapidly forgetting it in devoting their attention to the coal shortage and other pressing domestic problems.

RACE TO AUSTRALIA BY AIR GETS CLOSE

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The race between Captain Ross Smith, British aviator and Etienne Poulet, French, in their attempted flights to Australia had narrowed down to a 45 minute margin in favor of the British flyer, according to latest reports received by the air ministry here today.

Smith overtook the Frenchman before Poulet reached Rangoon and arrived in that city 45 minutes ahead, a dispatch to the air ministry said. The aviators both reached Rangoon November 30 and planned to leave December 1 for Bangkok, according to the dispatch.

The distance from Rangoon, one of the chief cities of the Indian province of Siam, is about 340 miles.

Beautiful Italian Girl Escapes Red Enemies in Russia

Heroine of Battalion of Death Badly Wanted By the Bolsheviks

ROME Italy, Dec. 4.—After having fought with the famous Russian Women's battalion of death and having had numerous escapes from death or capture by the bolsheviks, Donna Potenski, beautiful and cultured, has returned to her home in Italy.

After the women quit fighting she was marooned in Russia and was unable to get out of the country for many months. The bolsheviks wished to get her in their power because of her activities against them, but she slipped from under their fingers numerous times with the aid of friends and finally made her way across the border.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Wilson today sent to the senate the nomination of Representative Alexander of Missouri to succeed Secretary of Commerce Redfield, resigned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A joint resolution declaring the war at an end was introduced in the House today by Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Passenger train service on all western railroads from Chicago to the Pacific coast will be cut one-third beginning Monday, December 8. This action was decided upon here today at a conference of the three regional directors of the railway administration. No special trains are to be run for business or pleasure traffic. Appeals through advertisements will ask the public to refrain from unnecessary travel.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—Continuation of train service from the East to the Pacific coast comes at the height of the heaviest tourist rush to Southern California in years. The Santa Fe had announced that it had reservations from the east sold out in sufficient volume for December to require a two section train every day excepting Christmas and the two days preceding.

IRISH JURY TRIALS WILL BE SUSPENDED

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The meeting of the cabinet yesterday decided to suspend trial by jury throughout Ireland because of terrorism there and the impossibility of securing convictions, it was understood today.

PLAN TO GIVE LONG BEACH GAS OF S. A. PLANTS

Southern California Company's Attorney Says Industries May Lose Fuel

THAT natural gas now used by industries in Orange county may be taken from those industries and made available for "domestic and commercial use" in Long Beach is a statement credited by Los Angeles papers this morning to Attorney Leroy M. Edwards, attorney for the Southern Counties Gas Co., which supplies Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and other portions of Orange county with natural gas taken from oil wells in Orange county.

The question as to whether or not oil companies that sell natural gas to companies that distribute gas shall be declared public utilities has been raised at the hearing being conducted in Los Angeles by the State Railroad Commission.

At the opening of the session of the State Railroad Commission yesterday, which was held for the purpose of considering gas service, President E. O. Edgerton stated:

"The Railroad Commission has initiated this proceeding for the purpose of investigating every phase and angle of gas service in Southern California. It has been brought to our attention that a series of gas shortages has occurred during the past few months. There are disputes and disagreements between the gas companies as to the proper amount of gas to be delivered, one to the other, and between industrial consumers and the various gas companies as to the right of these consumers to a continued supply of gas, and within the last few days between domestic consumers and the companies as to adequate and continued gas supply."

"It appeared to the commission that the gas service to the whole of Southern California was so interconnected and interdependent that in order to approach the matter intelligently and adequately it was necessary to consider gas service both inside and outside the various municipalities."

"The purpose of the commission in this proceeding, among others, will be to bring about an equitable distribution of available gas and to encourage the development and distribution of more gas, in order that this southern community may be adequately supplied with this service which is constantly growing in importance to both domestic consumers and industry."

All Companies Represented

All the gas companies of the state are represented by officials and attorneys.

It is believed that one of the results of the hearing will be an order from the railroad commission compelling the Midway Company to install another gas transmission line from the Midway and Kern fields.

Claims that there is a shortage of natural gas in Southern California were supported in evidence given by Lester S. Ready, gas engineer for the commission. Testifying at the investigation, Ready declared:

"There is not enough natural gas near Los Angeles to supply the city during the winter. If natural gas were used exclusively in Los Angeles, the peak demand during the winter would exceed available supply by five to ten million cubic feet daily."

Giving figures, Ready said the natural gas supply available to Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach, San Pedro and adjacent cities is approximately 35,000,000 cubic feet daily, to which 3,500,000 feet will be added the latter part of the month. Industrial consumers in the same cities require 12,000,000 to 40,000,000 cubic feet per day. He warned that even by mixing natural and artificial gas, it may be necessary for industries to curtail heavily their use of gas on winter days.

CAN INSTALL PHONES FOR LESS THAN $100 EACH

Engineer at Hearing Says Mutual Company Price Seems Excessive

IN a declaration that under his own estimates, it would cost $111 per phone to reproduce the Smeltzer telephone system at today's prices, and that the figure seemed excessive, Assistant Engineer B. A. Brackenbury of the State Railroad Commission, strongly supports the contention of directors of the Orange County Farmers and Merchants Association that a mutual system covering the county can be installed for less than $100 per phone.

Explanations by the engineer of the reason for the excessive costs clearly indicated that the county system could be installed at a great deal less than $100. He compared this cost with other mutual exchanges where installations have been made at $99 and $71 per phone.

His statements came in the course of the hearing yesterday of the petition of the Smeltzer Home Telephone and Telegraph company for permission to increase its rates, or more properly speaking for approval of rates made effective the first of last April, when the federal government authorized an increase in rates for phones under its direction.

The Smeltzer system was not under the control of the federal government, but increasing costs of material and operation necessitated a raise and the company advanced the rates 25 cents per phone for residence instruments and 50 for desk.

Justice of Prices.
The investigation now being made is to determine the justice of those prices. The hearing was before Commissioner Irving Martin of Sacramento. C. C. Johnson, secretary and manager of the telephone company, was the only witness and he was quizzed by both the engineer and commission.

The assistant engineer was delegated by the commission to make a physical valuation of the system and had submitted his findings. He was quizzing Johnson on various features of the system and expense, when he asserted that it would cost $111 per phone to reproduce the plant. The report of the operations of the company, and from which the queries were made, was of Oct. 31.

He qualified his statement that the costs per phone appeared a little excessive by comparison with other mutual exchanges referred to, with an explanation of the causes that were responsible for the apparent excessive cost. The system is equipped for serving 331 subscribers and had only 218 at the end of October. His estimate for rebuilding the system under today's costs is $24,198.

Service All Suburban.
The service by the Smeltzer system is strictly suburban, consequently the cost per station (per phone) is higher than it would be in a system including city subscribers," he said in giving his opinion as to the costs. "The excessive value per station is also due to the fact that the plant as it stands today was constructed to take care of 331 subscribers, where it is serving only 218."

With a strictly suburban service system being possible of construction at $111 per phone, it is maintained that a 10,000 phone system, as proposed by the Orange County Farmers and Merchants Association, including both city and county districts, could be constructed for a good deal less than $100 per station.

It developed at the inquiry that about 3800 shares of stock of the Smeltzer company are outstanding among the thirty-two stockholders. There has been no centralization of the stock, according to the statement.

Girl, Head of Corporation Manages Company's Traffic Knows Much About Shipping

Woman Has Vast Knowledge of Routes, Rates and World's Harbors

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A lot of foreign business men think that one "E. Robinson" is a man with a lot of energy and knowledge of the shipping business, but they are much mistaken in part of their belief. For "E. Robinson" is a woman and a young woman at that. However, they are right when they think she has energy and shipping knowledge.

Miss Robinson is a most successful business woman. She is the youngest corporation manager in the world, it is claimed, and is general traffic manager for a shipping firm that does business all over the world. Any thing worth knowing about ship routes, rates, harbor facilities, capacity of vessels, their speed and dependability can be furnished by this young woman at a minute's notice. Business associates claim she is a wonder.

PERSHING STARTS ON TOUR OF INSPECTION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—General Pershing left Washington early today on an inspection tour of the military resources of the country. He will visit Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., today. His trip will take him the full length of the Pacific coast.

Pershing will spend the Christmas and New Year holidays at Lincoln, Neb., with his two sisters and his son, Warren.

In spite of the critical Mexican situation, the Mexican border territory is the last place on Pershing's itinerary. He expects to return to Washington the middle of February.

Pershing's report to Secretary Baker on the activities of the American expeditionary forces during the war is expected to be made public December 12.

AUNT GIVES LIFE TO SAVE GIRL AGED 5

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—Miss Kate Johnson, aged 65, is dead but her niece, Helen Hughes, aged five, is alive today although injured as a result of Miss Johnson's heroic sacrifice to save the child's life last year.

The little girl attempted to cross a Pacific Electric track ahead of a freight train. Miss Johnson ran onto the track and shoved her niece away from the track. Little Helen was hit by the train but was not run over. Miss Johnson was killed almost instantly.

L. A. BANK BANDIT JAILED, OTHERS PURSUED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—Arthur and Herbert Brown, wanted as members of the trio who robbed the Hellman bank Monday afternoon were in Riverside shortly before noon today according to a telephone message to the sheriff's office. They left Riverside in an automobile accompanied by two women and headed toward Los Angeles. Several automobiles loaded with armed deputies started to Riverside and men were stationed at vantage points along the road.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—With Ed Hudson of McGregor, Wisconsin, in jail and a posse of armed deputies en route to the Mexican border, sheriffs' officers today believe the capture of the entire party of bank robbers who took $25,000 from the Hellman bank's Union Square branch on Monday afternoon is near.

Hudson was arrested last yesterday and Sheriff Cline said he had confessed. The desire of a woman who says she is Jane Smith of Minneapolis, who was arrested with him, to have her arm tattooed caused Hudson to remain in Los Angeles while his partners fled. He was arrested in a tattoo parlor while watching an operator prick a fantastic design on the arm of his woman companion.

When Hudson's room in the Hotel Beebe was searched $9000 of the loot from the bank was recovered, the sheriff announced.

Sheriff Cline said Hudson gave the names of his companions as Arthur and Herbert Brown, brothers, both from Wisconsin. He said all three recently escaped from the Minnesota state penitentiary.

Cline said Hudson admitted a long criminal record of which robbery of the Bank of Minneapolis of $17,000 and a $7000 holdup at Keokuk, Iowa, were outstanding features. Both robberies were committed this year, the sheriff said.

NO OFFICIAL NOTICE

PARIS, Dec. 4.—The peace conference has received no notification from Kurt Von Lersner, German representative, that Germany will refuse to sign the peace protocol, it was authoritatively stated today.

TESTIMONY OF PEONS OBTAINED BY GUNS

Ambassador Fletcher Tells Foreign Relations Body Jenkins Evidence

FALL SAYS CARRANZA AIDS RED PROPAGANDA

Resolution By Sen. Hitchcock Would Give President Right to Act

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Beginning consideration of Senator Fall's resolution directing the president to sever diplomatic relations with Mexico, the Senate foreign relations committee today questioned Henry T. Fletcher, United States ambassador to Mexico.

While Fletcher's testimony was taken in secret session, some committee members said he testified that the evidence upon which Carranza officials are holding American Consular Agent Jenkins was obtained in this way:

A number of peons were herded into a ranch building and asked whether it was not true that Jenkins had been seen there on a certain day in company with a bandit.

The peons denied it. One of them was led outside and a moment later a shot was fired. Another was led out and a second shot was heard. After three of the peons had gone and three shots had been heard the remaining peons agreed to testify that Jenkins had been there.

Fall Repeats Statement
Fletcher gave his testimony after Senator Fall made a lengthy statement, reiterating that he would prove that Carranza is fostering radical propaganda in this country on a scale comparable in extent and viciousness to the German effort before America's entrance into the war. Fall told the committee that in his opinion this is sufficient reason for the rejection from the United States of all Mexican diplomatic and consular agents and for the withdrawal of American officials from Mexico.

Secretary Lansing is scheduled to appear before the committee this afternoon.

Senator Hitchcock has proposed to the committee a substitute for Fall's resolution. Hitchcock's resolution would pledge to the President the support of congress if he sees fit to break relations with Mexico. Fall's resolution would direct the President to break relations.

Mexican Intervention Comes Near, Belief Along Border

BY S. I. FREED
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 4.—There are explosive elements in the Mexican situation today bringing ultimate intervention perceptibly closer and endangering the lives of thousands of Americans in Mexico. The factors pressing onward to a real crisis between the nations are:

1. The Fall committee's investigation of Mexico's relations with this country. At hearings scheduled in El Paso, Los Angeles and other cities, in addition to evidence the committee will make public, Senator Fall is expected to make good his threat to "astound the world." Interventionists count heavily on the committee's publicity to strengthen their position with the public.

2. Enormous shipments of arms and ammunition are reported being planned in Spain for the Carranza government. Attempts to purchase these supplies in Belgium were

C. Jolly, through Attorneys Kemp, Mitchell & Silberberg, of Los Angeles.

It was recited in Jolly's complaint that on July 1st he entered into an agreement with Smith, whereby the latter was to rent the property in question at $25 per month, beginning on August 1st. Smith entered the premises on August 1st, Jolly said, he served Smith with a written notice that the rent would be increased to $30 per month. Smith has paid no rent, Jolly alleged, since September 30. Jolly asked the court for restitution of the premises by Smith; for $30 damages said to have been sustained on account of alleged waste and injury; and for the detention of the premises; for $9 back rent alleged to be due; and that the rent be trebled.

FIGHT FANS LAY MEXICO BREAK IS THEIR ODDS ON BECKETT TAKEN UP BY COMMITTEE

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Georges Carpentier knocked out Joe Beckett in the first round of their scheduled 20-round fight here tonight.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—George Carpentier, French heavyweight, is the popular favorite to win in the big fight tonight, but the money has gone on his bulky opponent, Joe Beckett.

Odds of five to four prevailed here today, that the British champion would win.

The twenty-round fight tonight in Colburn Stadium for a purse of $40,000 and the right to meet Jack Dempsey for the championship is the biggest sporting event in Europe since the beginning of the war.

Less than five thousand spectators will see the fight. Hundreds of French men, however, were still coming across the channel following the tip that standing room would be sold.

Four hundred "bobbies" around the stadium are handling traffic.

Many fake tickets were in circulation this morning and West End Hotel porters developed into high-class scalpers, getting $300 and $400 from Frenchmen and Americans for $25 seats.

Both fighters completed their training yesterday and professed themselves as ready and fit for the best battle of their lives.

For Beckett's victory means fame and a chance for further world glory.

For the Frenchman, who has been in the spotlight for years, victory means money to resume operations on his mining property in the region devastated by Germany.

Beckett is not the least worried. He is not given much to talking, but he did say in his slow, heavy way, "I shall win; Dempsey next."

Carpentier, more volatile, smiled happily and said:

"I mean to win and am confident I shall beat Beckett. Perhaps not very easily, but I shall beat him."

Considerable British money went on the Frenchman today. Carpentier has always been a prime favorite in London and some of the fans took a hunch from the statements of Eugene Corri, Eddie McGorty and other notables that Beckett would lose.

The fighters will take the ring about 9:30.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 4.—Jack Dempsey, world's championship, was probably the most deeply interested man in Los Angeles today, and maybe in the country, in the outcome of the Beckett-Carpentier fight.

"Sure, I'm interested," Dempsey said, and added that he was anxious to fight the winner, preferably in this country.

Dempsey already is setting up training quarters at a film studio here, has called for Bill Tate, his sparring partner, and proposes to keep in shape while filling a film contract.

It is estimated it will be March before Dempsey is through with his work in the movies.

ENGINEER SAYS TRIP TO PLANETS POSSIBLE

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Trips to the planets are a possibility, Professor George De Bothezat, Russian aeronautical engineer, told the western society of engineers here.

"Among aviation possibilities," he said, "is the invention of a machine propelled by a jet, which would take no count of space."

"I already have in mind such a plane," he continued. "An ordinary motor flown by a propeller would be used until the air becomes too rarefied, then the motor would be shut off and the plane flown by a series of gas explosions that would drive it on through space. The jet propulsion is not yet perfected, but it's coming soon."

blocked by the state department in Washington through pressure brought on the Belgian government, it is charged. Carranza is expected to be more successful in Spain. Another sequel like the Vera Cruz occupation in 1914, similarly caused, may follow.

3. The Jenkins case. This issue is not favored by American border officials for a showdown, but contributes to show Carranza's "lack of good faith," they say.

4. More Americans are in Mexico than any time since the exodus which followed President Taft's first warning to Americans to leave that revolution-ridden country. Americans have flocked into the Tampico oil regions. The boom in the silver market has resulted in hundreds of Americans returning to Mexican camps and smelter plants.

In Parral the Americans sleep behind a stockade, heavily armed and with sentries on guard to prevent a surprise assault. The "last straw" may be another murder of an American. Fall's charges of the spread of bolshevism propaganda in the United States with the connivance of Mexicans and with the knowledge of Carranza, are said to be equaled by alleged evidence of Mexicans' I. W. W. plot, pro-German activity, suspicion directed at Japan and Mexico in the Magdalena Bay case, with which the Los Angeles hearing will deal, and testimony of Carranza's rabid anti-Americanism.

Following introduction of Senator Fall's resolution in congress to sever diplomatic relations with Mexico, the border today figuratively rang with rumors. That the marines would "go in and get Jenkins" and that the war department's plans for invading Mexico were expected to reach headquarters here today so preparations could be made, were products of the rumor factory.

The only visible unusual activity in the border army was arrival of a number of army automobile mechanics who started work of cleaning out carbon in the motors of camouflaged tanks here.

Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of Carranza, is said to be in Spain purchasing arms and ammunition, his activities are being closely watched by American secret service men. Arrival of a Mexican munitions ship in gulf waters at a critical time, should relations reach the breaking point, might mean another Vera Cruz issue.

Non-interventionists, however, still hoped that President Wilson would block war, that the maneuvers of the presidential campaign in the United States would postpone a Mexican war at least until after 1920, or hoped that an "iron man" would arise in Mexico to pacify it suitably for America.

of Johnson, its distribution today being about the same as at the formation of the company.

Organized in 1904, the company was organized in 1904 when celery growing was the big industry in that vicinity and when there was a big demand for phone service that was not available except by the creation of a company for operating a plant within the district. One of the interesting points of its history was the comparison of subscribers at first and the number now. Over 300 subscribers were getting service at one time, in the height of the celery industry. With the change in the character of farming came a decrease in the subscribers.

Comparison of reports submitted by the company to the railroad commission showed a decrease in subscribers of about sixty in the last year, and when asked for an explanation as to the cause, Johnson stated that the bigger percentage of the loss was occasioned by the increase in rates in April and elimination of free tolls between Santa Ana and Smelter on May 1. Johnson expressed the belief that the number of subscribers at present is about the maximum number that will be available in the future.

Money is Retained.

In answer to a question, Johnson stated that the company was making an installation charge of $3.50 per phone and that the money was retained by the company. His attention was directed by Brackenbury to a decision of the Railroad commission. The decision, while not stated at the hearing, is believed to have reference to the decree of the commission that such installation charges must be returned to the subscriber at the expiration of one year.

It probably will be some weeks or months before the commission files its decision in the matter of the petition of the company.

There was an attendance of a number of subscribers in the district and of men from other parts of Southern California who are interested in telephone matters.

It is understood that a number of telephone subscribers in the Tustin exchange contemplated taking up with the commissioner yesterday the situation existing in that district where it is maintained that an injustice is being done by forcing subscribers into that exchange who believe they should be in the Santa Ana area, but the date of the hearing slipped their minds and they failed to appear.

LONG BEACH MAY GET S. A. GAS FOR PLANTS

when the domestic demand is at its heaviest.

Much Going to Waste. Arthur F. Bridge, rate engineer for the Southern Counties Gas Company, testified that the company could put in a new twelve-inch pipe line from the Midway field, where millions of feet of gas are going to waste because facilities for bringing it here are not available, but he stated such an improvement would cost $2,500,000 and would provide but 20,000,000 feet of natural gas.

Leroy M. Edwards, attorney for the Southern Counties Gas Company, stated that negotiations between the Southern Counties Gas Company and Southern California Gas Company are being carried on to make immediately available for domestic and commercial service in Long Beach a supply of gas which is now being given to industries in Orange county.

The press reports sent out concerning the hearing in Los Angeles give no further details of Edwards' statement than is contained in the preceding paragraph.

Orange county industries, including its laundries, that have been using natural gas have recently been notified by the Southern Counties Gas Company to get their oil burners into shape as they might have to use them at any time since the natural gas supply for use in industries would have to be reduced.

If it develops that it is the intention to take natural gas away from Orange county industries and turn them to Long Beach industries, as indicated in the report it is highly probable that Orange county organizations will enter a protest.

May Allow Less Natural Gas Served In Southland

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—To relieve the present shortage of natural gas, President E. O. Edgerton of the State Railway Commission, is expected to issue an order allowing the gas companies to supply less natural gas in their pipe lines. Edgerton indicated today that he favors such an order and a liberal policy as an emergency measure pending the outcome of the investigation of natural gas supplies in Southern California.

Attorneys for the gas corporations asked the commission for the fixing of a heat unit standard for Los Angeles and are said to welcome an order allowing more artificial gas introduced into the distributing system. This plan would produce mixed gas to be delivered to consumers, it was explained at today's session of the hearing.

The hearing today was largely technical in nature. President Edgerton of the commission will go to San Francisco as soon as the hearing is completed and the decision in the case will be made there after he consults other members of the commission.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rides himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.—Adv.

HARVARD TEAM WILL START WEST DEC. 20

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—The Harvard football eleven will leave Cambridge for Pasadena, Cal., December 20, for a game against a Pacific coast team on New Year's day, according to plans made known today. Thirty-two players, in addition to Coach Fisher and trainers, will make up the party.

Fisher declared that while Harvard will go to the Pacific coast as an undefeated eleven, he desired to make it clear that Crimson was not seeking an intercollegiate title.

FULTON TO FIGHT MEEHAN.
NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, and Willie Meehan, Frisco fat boy, are to fight eight rounds in Newark, N. J., January 12. Tom O'Rourke, Fulton's manager, made the announcement after a conference with Dave Mackay, Newark promoter.

Chamberlain's Tablets
These tablets are intended especially for indigestion and constipation. They tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They are gently on the liver and bowels, thereby restoring the stomach and bowels to a healthy condition. When you feel dull, stupid and constipated, give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with their effect.

ALLING NON-SUPPORT CHARGE DISMISSED

Within a few minutes after the preliminary hearing of W. T. Alling, on a charge of non-support brought by his wife, Claudia Alling, began in justice court, testimony had been introduced showing that Alling had paid his wife the first $50 installment required on a monthly schedule of temporary alimony, ordered by Superior Judge West last Friday, and Justice John B. Cox dismissed the case. Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton appeared for the prosecution and Attorney A. E. Koepsel for the defense.

PAYS $25 FINE FOR 45-MILE AUTO SPEED

Evidence to the effect that George Chapman, of Long Beach, speeded up his automobile, at times to 45 miles an hour, when "County Motor Police" Roy Ballard tried to pass him on the boulevard leading to Seal Beach, was given by Ballard in justice court yesterday, resulting in Chapman being fined $25. Chapman pleaded guilty and paid the fine.

W. Thattin, of Los Angeles, promised to pay a fine of $10, levied in connection with an automobile complaint.

NOVEMBER MARRIAGE LICENSES TOTAL 154

One hundred and fifty-four marriage licenses were issued at the courthouse during the month of November, it was today announced by J. M. (Cupid) Backs, county clerk. The number of licenses issued in November of last year was 79. Backs stated that the present year probably would break all former records in numbers of marriage licenses issued.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts Your Liver Without Making
You Sick And Can Not
Salivate

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. "Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of sluggish liver and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back."

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Adv.

FAMILY REUNION IS HELD AT F. D. PLAVAN HOME

Talbert M. E. Sunday School
Just Reorganized Is Growing Fast

TALBERT, Dec. 4.—A family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan, the affair being a postponed Thanksgiving party. The postponement was made as Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Plavan of Huntington Beach were absent at that time, being in the North, where they spent a week in company with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bradford of Placentia, going up to be present at the Stanford-California game, from which they did not return until Thursday night.

The Sunday dinner was a most sumptuous and enjoyable affair and was participated in by Miss Alma Plavan, who came down from Ferris for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swift and little daughter, Gwendolyn, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Randall of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Plavan of Huntington Beach, Clarence McFadden of Santa Ana, Leona Hall of Santa Ana, Clyde Plavan, Leland Plavan, Misses Edith and Wilma Plavan and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan.

The Sunday school of the local M. E. church, South, which has just been reorganized, is growing rapidly, twenty-three having been present the past Sunday, which is a fair number for a beginning. Mrs. J. J. Woodson is superintendent and teacher of the intermediate class; Mrs. S. E. Talbert has the Juniors, and Miss Edith Jesse the Primary department.

A. P. Vincent left Monday on a vacation trip in his Ford coupe and expected to be away for several days.

Mrs. S. E. Talbert and mother, Mrs. M. J. Thurman, visited at Long Beach Friday.

S. E. Talbert has the contract of clearing out and plowing the Santa Ana river bed on the section directly east of here and at present has two four-horse teams employed on it.

Mrs. L. T. Wells is having rather a serious time with a finger on which a "run-around" started some weeks ago. It now has proud flesh in it and it has been necessary to have it burned out with acid several times.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bushard had as guests over Saturday night and Sunday the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Talbert, of Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert and three children are spending the week with Mrs. Gilbert's brother, Geo. Wells, and family. The Gilberts, who are late arrivals from Nebraska, expect to locate near here.

Mrs. Will Jones has been taking the minor census for the Talbert school district the last week and was assisted Saturday by her brother-in-law, Robt. Wardlow, clerk of the Fountain Valley school board, who went with her to take the census among the Mexican population.

Mrs. Preston, who with her children have been here on an extended visit to their aunt, Mrs. M. A. Nimocks, left Monday for their home in Humboldt county. Mrs. Nimocks had intended to make the trip with them at least as far as San Francisco but was detained from going at that time but will go later, making the trip via automobile.

Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana and Mrs. Stevenson were dinner guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan.

Mrs. N. A. Nimocks is the owner of a new seven-passenger Stearns-Knight machine.

Chas. Ward received a new Nash car last Saturday, which he ordered some months ago.

Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson were hosts Thanksgiving evening at a turkey dinner to a party of eight. Covers were laid for Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Glazner and son, Wilson Glazner, of Santa Ana, Miss Gladys Ball of Bolsa, Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson and Miss Mabel Lee and Dorothy Woodson.

Miss Ethleen Culver, Miss Vera Bushard and Miss Mabel Lee Woodson, Chas. Bickmore, Henry Bickmore and Teddy Bushard of Talbert attended a delightful indoor weenie bake accorded the science class by the teachers at the Huntington Beach high school, Wednesday evening. A variety of other tempting things to eat was served also and a jolly time ensued.

Donald, Edith and Nelda Ball and their sister, Miss Gladys Ball, of Bolsa were afternoon guests Thursday at the parsonage and the latter remained over as a guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson until Sunday afternoon, when she accompanied them as they went to church at Bolsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Borchard and niece, Miss Clara Hauptmann, left here Sunday morning for a short visit with friends in Los Angeles county, returning Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Borchard entertained at a turkey dinner Thanksgiving day a large party of relatives and friends. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. James Heaton and son, James, Jr., of Los Alamitos, Caspar Borchard of Conejo, father of the host; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Donaldson of Los Angeles, the latter of whom is Mrs. Borchard's cousin, and her brother, W. C. Hauptmann of San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Brady and two sons of Hollywood visited at the S. E. Talbert ranch Thursday.

F. D. Plavan has purchased a residence on South Birch street, Santa Ana, and began moving to it Monday of this week.

Will Take 142 Miles New Paving to Meet Demands of All County Sections

THE total number of miles of road requested by Associated Chamber of Commerce representatives, one from each supervisorial district, is 142 miles. Next Tuesday night a committee of twenty-five, appointed by D. Eymann Huff, president of the Associated Chambers, to consider a proposal for a new bond issue for building good roads in this county, is to hear the report of a committee of five. It is the committee of five that suggests 142 miles of road. Before the proposal for a bond issue goes further efforts will be made to reduce the scheduled demands to 100 miles.

The committee of five, however, in reality will not report the conclusions of the committee of five, but merely report to the committee of twenty-five the roads in his district that each supervisorial district committee should be paved.

These on the committee of five are G. B. Shattuck, Santa Ana; W. T. Newland, Huntington Beach; Chas. Eysa-broad, Anaheim; Willard Smith, Orange, and F. B. Browning, Tustin.

Since Santa Ana comprises the first district and none of its territory lies outside of the incorporated city, none of the proposed good roads can be built inside Santa Ana's city limits.

One suggestion that seems to have been brought up indirectly by reason of the discussion in the second district is the disincorporation of the city of Stanton. If that city is disincorporated the county can then pave roads now inside its city limits.

According to the schedule of roads wanted to be reported to the committee of twenty-five next Tuesday evening, thirty-eight miles of roads are in the second district, fifty-nine in the third district, twenty miles in the fourth district and twenty-five in the fifth district.

Second District
The suggestions for thirty-eight miles in the second district as submitted by Newland includes the following roads:
From Bolsa south to the Talbert

A road straight north from Anaheim by sugar factory to Fullerton.

Several unpaved roads at Placentia. A road running southeast from Placentia to join the Anaheim-Richfield road.

Richfield Roads
A road running north and south through Richfield from Santa Ana river to Yorba Linda road.

From pavement northeast of Placentia to Richfield.
Road from Yorba Linda north to Yorba Linda, and other roads at Yorba Linda.

Road west from Yorba Linda one mile north of present Yorba Linda paved road.

Road from near P. E. tracks through Olinda and up Carbon canyon to the county line.

Placentia road south from end of present paving east of Anaheim.

Two miles of road running east and west across state highway south of Anaheim.

Fourth District
The twenty miles of road suggested in the fourth district include:

Tustin avenue, north and south.
El Modena to County Park, this road to be considered in the main as a road in which the whole county is interested.

Several connecting roads north of Orange and east of Glassell street.

Fairhaven east to Hewes road.
Road south from El Modena along foothills joining Newport road extension.

Fifth District
The roads proposed in the fifth district include:

East Seventeenth to Newport road.
From A. G. Finley's place on Newport road around by and north of Red Hill and southward to Irvine boulevard.

Tustin avenue and Glenn avenue south to Newport road.

Delhi road from South Main street east to Newport road and from Newport road southeast through Bean Town to Laguna Beach road a short distance west of Irvine.

Fairview road extension through Fairview to Harper.

From Newport Beach boulevard to Orange County County Club.

Road up on to Laguna Cliffs, from present paved road.

From San Juan Capistrano up canyon to O'Neill ranch line, and down canyon on northwest side to Serra at the sea.

Expect to Prune
The lists as given above may have omitted some minor roads unintentionally. The lists as they appear here were made up hurriedly from the maps submitted, and the lists are substantially correct, with the possible omission of some short roads.

At the meeting yesterday there was no doubt expressed but that there would have to be considerable pruning of demands before a road bond issue can be submitted. Some of those present believe that there should be no attempt made to improve over 100 miles of road.

It is expected that some of the pruning will start at the meeting of the committee of twenty-five next Tuesday evening.

Mysterious Pains and Aches

Make Life Hard to Bear for Many Santa Ana Women

Too many women mistake their pains and aches for troubles peculiar to the sex. More often disordered kidneys are causing the aching back, dizzy spells, headaches and irregular urination. Kidney weakness becomes dangerous if neglected. Use a time-tried kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. Hosts of people testify to their merit. Read a Santa Ana case:

Mrs. George Tomlinson, 519 East Second St., Santa Ana says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a household remedy in my home. Several members of my family have been greatly benefited by them. I have used them myself when my kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. At these times my back ached and pained me. Just to sweep the floor caused me severe suffering and I had dizzy spells and my kidneys bothered me. Doan's Kidney Pills, used as directed soon gave me relief from the aches and pains, regulated my kidneys and improved my condition." Price 60c, at all dealers. ### NO POSTPONEMENT

There is a good deal of talk about the peace treaty being thrown into the next national campaign. It would be desirable, undoubtedly, to get a definite national decision on the treaty. A big campaign would add to public enlightenment on this subject and enable the Senate, as a result, to register its verdict with more confidence.

If the treaty could have been made, by a national referendum or otherwise, the main issue of this last election, it would have been an excellent thing. But to wait now for the next presidential election would mean a postponement of more than a year. The vote might not become effective in the Senate until 1921.

Can the nation afford to wait? Can the world afford to wait? Nearly everybody who has expressed an opinion lately, in public life, in private life, or in the press, seems to want the matter settled now, to end the long delay and the growing confusion and unrest. And as a matter of fact, there is no lack of data on which to base a settlement. The public understands the general scope of the treaty well enough, and is satisfied to accept it, with a few clarifying and safeguarding reservations. The public believes that the senators, by a sensible compromise, could finish the job about as satisfactorily now as a year or two from now, and would rejoice to see the thing done before Christmas.

POSTAGE AND PENNIES

Bills pending in congress which provide for the reduction of the local postage letter rate from two cents to one have been approved by Postmaster General Burleson. This means that a letter mailed in any city or town would be delivered anywhere within the limits of the local delivery system for one cent. It does not affect letters going beyond the local office.

This provision was at one time in force. Mr. Burleson says that "the present two-cent charge on that class of mail exceeds the cost of handling," and he "believes the reduction should be made because the postal service should not be conducted for profit."

There are two sides to this matter, however. While no one wants to pay more for postage than is necessary, it seems rather absurd, in view of the existing state of postal finances, that any reduction should come about because a little money is made on one trifling branch of the service.

If there were funds available to give the carriers and other postal employees a fair wage, compared with other kinds of labor of equal standard, if wages were high enough to attract to the service somewhere near enough employees to handle the work efficiently, then, if one branch were paying a profit, that profit should, of course, be taken off and the consumer be given the benefit of the reduction.

CODDLING THE "REDS"

Deportation is not the final solution of the "Red" problem, but deportation is by common consent the obvious, immediate step to take. There is growing impatience over the apparent timidity and delay of federal authorities in this respect.

Months ago there was announcement made of a general round-up of dangerous aliens. Particular attention was called to a trainload of trouble-makers from Seattle, destined for New York and thence for their native lands. It appears now that only seven out of that cargo have actually been deported. According to the New York World three of them are still held in custody in New York, and twenty-two have been turned loose.

There has been another big round-up since. What is to become of that? How many of these violent enemies of Americanism have been deported so far, altogether? How many are held? How many have been freed by legal procedure and official laxity, to continue their menacing propaganda? When are the exportations going to begin in earnest? The public would like to know.

It is explained that present laws are not drastic enough to confer the necessary authority. For that, congress is responsible. It is also charged that prosecutors and federal officials in general have not taken full advantage of powers already existing. The people would like to see a tightening up of laws and administration both. The menace is too grave to play with.

"Reds" imprisoned in New York are quoted as saying: "You have got us in jail, but our turn is coming, and then God help you! We will blow the heads off a few people like you (referring to members of congress) when the time comes."

How much longer is the government going to stand for that sort of thing?

From a current "horoscope" we learn that people "should sign papers only after mature judgment," that "money, while having fair prospects, is fraught with dangers from rash action," that under present signs "there is likely to be much political and industrial controversy," and that "those in employment if undeniably deserving may receive benefits." What a wonderful thing is astrology!

The world is full of industrial troubles because people lack the necessities of life, and people lack the necessities of life because the world is full of industrial troubles.

There is going to be an egg show at Harrisburg, Pa. What's the idea? To give people who can't afford to buy eggs a chance to look at some for a moderate fee?

Moralists used to accuse a bibulous father of drinking up the children's shoes. Now he's drinking up the raisins in their cookies.

The Asset of Character

San Bernardino Sun

It is good for the maintenance of morals to be reminded from time to time by the world's great men in what esteem they hold character. The late J. P. Morgan drew attention to the subject several years ago, in testifying before the congressional committee investigating the so-called "money trust," when he said he would rather lend a large sum of money to a man of unimpeachable character on his bare promise to return it than to one of doubtful character, regardless of what security the latter might give for repayment. That was a striking testimonial to the value successful men place on character.

Now comes President Wilson with a somewhat similar tribute. Disapproving the sentence of dismissal from the army imposed by a court martial on an officer of long and honorable service who had been found guilty of some infraction of military regulations, the president says he has taken this action "in order that he and others may realize how valuable an asset reputation and established character are."

Too often, it is to be feared, men ask themselves if an upright life is appreciated. They may have been taught that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches" and that "who steals my purse steals trash; but he that fishes from me my good name robs me of what which not enriches him and makes me poor indeed." But they see rogues prospering and persons notorious for dishonest practices apparently held in respect. And the question arises if probity commands the esteem to which it is entitled.

It takes an incident like this of the army officer to drive away the clouds of suspicion and clearly reveal that character is always a potential asset of inestimable value. The occasion may not arise in which a reputation for integrity will bring material reward. But, like fire insurance, it stands ready in a crisis to come to the aid of him who possesses it.

Spirit That Heals

Minneapolis Journal

There is nothing unprecedented in the present unrest which is what usually comes in the wake of war. What is unprecedented and subversive is the impatient and insistent spirit which found expression in the bolt of the labor group from the recent industrial conference.

Such a turmoil of bitterness will do nothing toward industrial adjustment. A truer Americanism brooded over the making of the constitution. It took fifty-five men eighty-five days and nights to draft that immortal document. They were at least as wise as we are today, and the issues they faced were not so complex as present issues. Many seem to expect to settle our industrial difficulties in less than a week, and if this is not done they bolt.

The high idealism of American tradition is the spirit of fair play and the spirit of patience which characterized the constitution's makers and such leaders as Washington and Lincoln in times of crisis. Little constructive work can be accomplished without these elements. Let us have an Americanism that heals.

Case Is Finished

San Bernardino Sun

If Governor Stephens and his legal advisers have studied the Mooney case until they arrive at the point where the governor says: "Of Mooney's guilt there is in my mind no question," then he has done the only thing a conscientious executive could do, and Mooney will get no pardon, while the governor all but closes the door to further agitation by saying that unless there is something new to submit, he can give no further time or attention to the case.

No Time for Buck Fever

"America First and Only"

From the Fresno Republican

The Senate has lived down to its slogan of "America alone." For, alone of all the nations in the world, the United States has refused to ratify the peace with Germany, or to join the league which was to maintain that peace. To be sure, if we were to back out at all, it is well to have done so directly. Any treaty which really needed these Senate reservations was not fit to pass even with them, and the Senate did the honest thing in killing it outright, instead of hamstringing it. It was doomed, anyway. The President could not have resubmitted it, with these reservations, or, if he had, the other nations would have refused to agree to them. It was merely a question who should do the killing, and Congress did well in finishing the job at the first blow. Unless we were willing to join the other nations decently, it was better not to join at all, and to make our nation a self-chosen outcast from the world. That is a shameful enough role, but it is at least better than playing the sneak.

But what are these precious "reservations," over which we have broken with the world? Most of them—the ones which the treaty forces offered to compromise on—are merely superfluous and ridiculous. Five of them, for instance, specify that certain powers which the Constitution confers on Congress still remain in Congress. A reservation that twice two is still four would be as sensible. Three of them specify that certain questions which the rest of the world has agreed to leave to the League of Nations, the United States demands the special privilege of judging for itself. And the preamble requires the other nations expressly to agree that the United States shall have these privileges which they have foregone for themselves. Two of them wash our hands of the principal war settlements of the treaty as morally unworthy even of our formal assent. One of them requires Japan and England formally to approve our repudiation of the Shantung settlement and our threat to make war on Japan over it. Another requires England to agree that Canada and Australia shall not vote. Another refers to each future Congress to determine whether the world-policy of respecting the integrity of nations shall, for that Congress, be the policy of the United States. And one of them, recommended by the committee, though fortunately not passed, by the Senate, repudiated all the rest of America's obligations under the nations to consent that we should have all the rights and none of the duties provided. Of these reservations, it will be seen that the mild and harmless ones were ridiculous, and could only be justified by an attitude of suspicion which would better justify staying out altogether, while the serious ones were of a sort which other nations could not possibly accept. It was therefore fairer to reject the treaty ourselves than to pass it to them to reject.

If this is to be our national course, we ought in all fairness to go the rest of the way. Let us at least quit our hypocritical cant about Shantung. We have made it none of our business what Japan does to China, or Turkey to Armenia. Incidentally we have retained a lot of German ships, but have refused to agree to the provisions of their transference. Let us simply grab them, and defy the world to take them away. We have sequestered hundreds of millions of property owned by Germans in America, and Germany has sequestered a smaller amount owned by Americans in Germany. Let us grab whatever we like, here, and then send an army to Germany, to stop Germany from grabbing anything there. The foreign trade of Germany is in control of the Allies. They will arrange it to suit themselves. If we do not like their arrangements, let us trade with Germany any way we please, and send our navy to defy the Allied regulations. We have repudiated Japan's agreement to settle our numerous disputes by negotiation. Let us therefore pile up ships and munitions and men on the Pacific coast, to be prepared to settle them by war, on an instant's notice. We have kicked ourselves out of the world's commercial arrangements. Let us, therefore, be prepared to batter our way into them, with the cannon. We have repudiated the world's financial organization. Let us therefore store all the gold in this country, and let the rest of the world go bankrupt and starve, while we make our livings taking in each other's washing. For if our slogan is to be "America first and America ONLY," we had better prepare to live up to it.

Of course, it is to be hoped that none of this will have to happen. The next move is up to President Wilson and the foreign offices of the other great nations. They may, somehow, find a way out for us, and the Senate, next month, may somehow be brought to take that way out. The present situation is too shameful to last. The world is in a sorry enough shape, but it must not be so sorry as this.

Worth While Verses

Come, stand we here within this cactus-brake,
 And let the leafy tangle cloak us round.
 It is the spot whereof the Seer spoke—
 To nymph and faun a nightly trysting-ground.
 How still the scene! No zephyr stirs to shake
 The listening air. The trees are slumber-bound
 In soft repose. There's not a bird awake
 To wretch the silence with a silver sound.

Now haply shall the vision trance our eyes,
 By heedless mortals all too rarely scanned,
 Of mystic maidens in immortal guise,
 Who mingle shadowy hand with shadowy hand,
 And moving o'er the lilies circle-wise,
 Beat out with naked feet a saraband.

—Andrew Lang.

Import of luxuries has increased 125 per cent. The percentage of necessities that have become luxuries is greater than that.

Lenine has announced his intention of making war on the British empire. A fellow named Wilhelm can tell him how the thing will end.

The New York printers who went "on vacation" are going back to work, admitting, as the Washington Trades Unionist remarks, that their strike was a "typographical error."

GROANS AND GRINS

Placing the Blame

A well known novelist was cornered at an afternoon party by an inquisitive lady.

"Are you a bachelor from choice," she asked, severely.

"Yes!" came the prompt answer.

"But isn't that—or rather ungracious and ungallant?" protested she.

The novelist smiled.

"You must ask the ladies," he suggested gently; "it was their choice, not mine."—Answers.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

The world is very nice to me.
 It gives me trees and skies of blue.
 I'll give it little verses back—
 It seems the least that I could do.

Caught on First Bounce

By S. M. Greene

Pasadena is working on a grand little idea, that of founding a real college for women there, that will be on a par with Wellesley and Bryn Mawr and Vassar and some of the other schools for women that have made the east famous, as well as making famous some of the women who attended them. Some such school is bound to be established on the Pacific coast some time, says the Star-News and if eventually, why not the motion for the ladies, and God bless 'em. Pasadena is just the kind of high-toned homey place that not now, and at Pasadena. We see we would like to see such a school located, so that when Miss Doris Greene gets about ten years older, she can show them what a comanation of brains and high-class schooling can do.

A Corona woman has bought the entire water system of a town near there. She must be determined to have something for her husband to drink, now that the worst comes to the worst.

An autoist at Loomis, Calif., was pinned underneath his car when it ran off the road, but he kept tooting his horn and at last attracted attention and was rescued unhurt. That fellow has the secret of success. He kept tooting his horn, even though he seemed to be down and out, and at last he attracted attention and came out on top again.

An adv. of a music store in the Anaheim Herald the other day said: "Baby Sale—Get one for 25c." Of course, it was a mistake. It can't be done.

A lady writer in the Long Beach Telegraph went to see Douglas Fairbanks perform in the making of one of his strenuous athletic films the other day, and reported great disappointment in watching Doug manipulate himself. "She said he not only was awkward in climbing into a tree and jumping down from it, but his voice was high-pitched and squeaky like a boy's. Another idol fallen. Next thing we'll learn will be that Mary Pickford is homely when she smiles in real life, and that Charlie Chaplin is pigeon-toed at home."

A little boy at Santa Barbara, says the Morning Press, ran after a load of hay and touched a match to it to see if it would burn. He saw. It did.

Small Dishonor Roll

Fresno Herald

An inquisitive writer with a turn of mind for history, prompted by the demand made at the American Legion convention for the deportation of Victor Berger, informs us that there are but few names on the congressional roll of dishonor.

Congress first started its purging when William Blount of Tennessee, was expelled from the senate for "a high misdemeanor, entirely inconsistent with his public trust and duty." Blount had conspired with the Indians in the interests of the British government.

A series of expulsions and refusals to permit members-elect to take their seats during the civil war period constitute a turbulent chapter in our history. The expulsion, however, of Senator Bright of Indiana, for recognizing Jeff Davis as president, was the only one for disloyalty.

The so-called polygamy cases were the most sensational of our seclusion or expulsion trials.

But if we count cases of treason against the government in behalf of a foreign power we find that the congressional roll of dishonor is very small.

This is in striking contrast to the record of some of the foreign representative bodies, and a matter of pride to Americans, in view of the intense rivalry that often becomes bitter in our elections.

After all is said and done, and after we have put aside our prejudices and irresponsible jabber, America is a pretty good place and Americans pretty good folk.

So Stupid

She was one of the war, products. With "goo-goo" eyes, a sweet smile, and very little knowledge of her work, she called herself a typist. She had learned her job in a government office, but now she was out in the cold, hard world.

One day the manager called her into his office.

"Surely, Miss Greene, i n c u m is a new way of spelling 'income,' isn't it?" he asked mildly.

She fluffed her hair with one dainty finger for a moment in thought. Then her facious smile came into play.

"Oh, I'm sorry!" she gurgled, "how stupid of me to forget the B!"—Answers.

DOWN TO HIS JOB

When Robinson Crusoe was wrecked all alone, on an island far out in the sea, he didn't sit down on the sands with a groan and murmur, "Poor, unlucky me!" He started to work right away with a will, and builded the first bungalow, and he fashioned some tools and so managed to till some ground that a garden might grow.

Whatever he needed he made for himself. From things that were lying at hand—Umbrellas or shoes or a head bumping shelf. For the winter preserves he had canned. Some people, thus stranded, would lie down and sob. And presently perish, no doubt. 'Twas the way Mr. Crusoe got down to his job. That made him worth writing about.

"Benevolence" Is Topic

A largely attended meeting of the Woman's Club occurred Tuesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Lillian Atkins, at 221 Cypress avenue. The spacious rooms were aglow with beautiful roses, the regal McArthur rose holding sway over the other varieties. The president expressed great pleasure at being able to be present after an absence of several weeks in Oregon. Happy felicitations upon her return were voiced by the members.

After the usual opening form, the regular business routine was entered upon. A communication from Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, county chairman of Child Welfare, was read, urging every club to appoint a Child Welfare chairman and "let every club strive to do something to benefit the children of their own community."

"Benevolence" was the topic of the interesting program presented by Mrs. L. D. Annis. "To promote the happiness of others is the ideal definition of the word benevolence. If we love others and practice the Golden Rule we will not come far from practicing true benevolence."

"My Favorite Benevolence" was the subject given at roll call and elicited a variety of answers—from the home for every child, to the feeding of tramps.

The club sent congratulations to the club mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, upon the arrival of her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Pyle read from the Club Woman "A Christmas Opportunity for Giving to Maternity Cottage, Los Angeles."

The club adjourned to meet in two weeks for the Christmas program.

Association Resumes Ticket Sale

Through the generous offer of the board of trustees of the First Methodist church to the Musical Association to use its auditorium for the latter's concert programs, many of those who have been disappointed in getting Musical Association memberships will now be accommodated, tickets being again on sale at the First National Bank, Mr. Hansen's window, and at the high school office.

Six excellent programs remain to be given, the first of which will come a week from next Monday evening, December 15th, when Tomford Harris, a most remarkable musical genius, will give a piano recital for the association.

This promises to be not only one of the most interesting but one of the most enjoyable features of the year's course.

Bride and Groom Come Here

A wedding of considerable local interest took place Tuesday at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Hollywood, at which Miss Minnie Short, who just arrived from Boone, Iowa, and Kenneth F. Stowe, son of Fred A. Stowe, of this city, were joined in matrimony by the Rev. Martin, minister of the church.

Only a few of the relatives of the groom were present at the ceremony, being Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rose, who recently left Santa Ana and bought a bakery in Hollywood.

(Mr. Rose is a cousin of the groom); Miss Lettie Stowe, his sister, and Fred A. Stowe, his father.

The young people went to Long Beach to spend a brief honeymoon and arrived in Santa Ana last evening and will make their home at 644 North Van Ness street for the present. The groom is employed at the Heck cleaning establishment.

Roosevelt P. T. A. Meeting

The Roosevelt P. T. A. held its first night meeting Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock in the kindergarten room. The meeting opened with an interesting and entertaining program given by pupils of the third, fourth and fifth grades, followed by a piano duet by Ramona Clevenger and Dorothy Mead.

J. A. Cranston was present and emphasized the importance of the coming school bond election, which is to be held January 13, 1920.

A. B. Gardner, member of the board of education, spoke of the need of more room at the high school.

An interesting and instructive address on School Laws of California was given by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools. Membership contest closed with this meeting. Blis, Miss Borden, teacher, received the prize for securing the most members. The total membership is 128. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and light refreshments were served.

Announces Engagement

Many of the friends of Miss Nell Cathcart will be surprised to hear of her engagement to Corporal B. J. Thompson, which was announced last evening.

A number of girls were invited to her home to visit with Mrs. Bessie Munro, who leaves tomorrow for her home in Colorado.

Marie Gillaspay played several pieces on the piano, and a number of the girls sang, after which games were played, keeping the announcement a secret until refreshments were served.

A large glass basket of violets and maiden-hair fern formed a centerpiece for the table, and small baskets of violets were used as favors, to which were tied an envelope bearing this inscription, "A Message of the Violets," and on looking inside, the secret was revealed.

Invited guests besides the honored guest, Mrs. Bessie Munro, and the hostess, included Mary McCarter, Vera Joplin, Helen Jamison, Cleo Morrison, Marie Gillaspay Grace Cathcart, Ethel Torrens, Mary and Margaret Walkinshaw, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Carl Forester, Mrs. Willie Cathcart, Mrs. Carl Stierrett, and Mrs. Woodrow Steuart of Santa Ana, and Gladys Dush, of Orange.

American Legion Dance

About four hundred persons attended the dance given under the auspices of the American Legion in Campbell's Hall at Orange last night, representing delegates from Santa Ana and other points in the county.

The hall was beautifully decorated with American flags and those of the Allied nations entwined with ivy.

During the evening delicious punch was served and a general good time was had.

Miss Ora Napoleon of this city and Walter Loesch of Orange won the first prize for dancing the fox trot and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Damewood of Orange won the prize waltz.

Several exhibition dances were given by Miss Pelley of Los Angeles. This is the first social affair that the American Legion has given but it is hoped that many more equally as successful will be given in the future.

Hoosier Picnic

Former Hoosier residents of Orange county are invited to a meeting of the Hoosier Picnic Association at G. A. R. hall in Santa Ana, next Tuesday, Dec. 9. The annual reunion was not held earlier in the year, as is usual, because a number of Orange county Hoosiers were back east on the G. A. R. excursion and stayed the 60-day limit in Indiana. They will add much to the interesting program planned to include a number of five-minute talks by prominent Hoosiers of the county. Attorney O. T. Callip, of Anaheim, has been asked to speak on "Indiana as a Law Center."

The Jolly Eight Club

All of the members of the Jolly Eight Club were present at yesterday's meeting, held with Mrs. F. J. Wagner at her apartment.

Lovely rosebuds graced the cheerful rooms and the ladies occupied themselves with Christmas fancy work.

Tamale pie, doughnuts, candied figs, coffee and chocolate made a delicious repast served by the genial hostess.

Helping Hand Society

The Helping Hand Society of the First Baptist Church met Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors, the president, Mrs. O'Brien in the chair. Mrs. M. Z. Lyons led the devotion.

The ladies of the Baptist church are planning to do real Americanization work. Two of their members, Mrs. Geo. Ash and Miss Owen are taking the Americanization course given by the University extension in Los Angeles. These ladies gave most interesting reports of their work and the practical slum and class work being done in connection with this course.

Miss Norma Wingood gave a selection in negro dialect in her usual charming manner.

Mrs. W. D. Gould had charge of the program.

Missionary Society Elects

The Woman's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church held a very enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. Hoy, 1225 French street, the president, Mrs. J. G. Kennedy, presiding. Miss Addie Cowan led the devotional service. The thank offering secretary gave the report up to the present time, which is over $590. The offering will be open for more contributions for one more week.

The election of officers for the coming year was held and the officers were elected, as follows: President, Mrs. J. G. Kennedy; vice-president, Mrs. W. M. Smart; secretary, Mrs. Frank Todd; treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Raitt; literature secretary, Mrs. C. T. Elsie; temperance secretary, Mrs. T. L. Warren; thank offering secretary, Mrs. Anna Scott.

The subject for the afternoon was "The Sudan," and the leader was Mrs. W. W. Hoy. Mrs. Hoy conducted the program in a very unique way by having a school, she being the teacher and assistants being the pupils, each pupil having for her lesson some phase of the missionary work—the Sudan. The pupils were Miss Addie Cowan, Mrs. Frank Todd, Mrs. Will McCurney, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Scott Torrance.

At the close of the meeting the ladies enjoyed a social hour, during which the teacher and her pupils served a splendid lunch in paper bags supplemented with a cup of hot coffee.

The new programs for 1920 will be distributed at next meeting. The following song was sung by the school:

A JOURNEY TO THE SUDAN

Away across the mighty sea
Our missionaries go.
Where many little boys and girls
Are black as any crow.
Far up the great old River Nile,
Beyond the cataracts,
There is a fertile, fruitful land,
Which true religion lacks.
Sudan in Central Africa;
Its capital, Khartoum;
Our church has 14 brave workers
There.

In that far land of gloom,
The Rev. Gebra Hanna
Was the first one in the field,
And last Miss Sara I. Dight goes
Her services to yield.
Rev. D. S. Oyler
And Dr. Giffen's there,
And Rev. George A. Sowash, too.
Each helps the burden bear.
Miss Emma M. McKeown, too.
To teach in that new school.
The Juniors built last year, you know,
And live the Golden Rule.
At Omdurman a doctor works,
Rev. Kilmer is his name.
And Mr. Guthrie, too, has gone,
Glad tidings to proclaim.
Upon the Sobat river,
Far up on Dolaib Hill,
The Rev. R. F. Shields is there
And Dr. Lambie, too.
Bright greetings to this noble band
The women wish to send.
And here at home with all our might,
A helping hand will lend.

Ice Cream Freezer Is Raided, Colored Folk Gnash Teeth

TOM Walker, colored, and an expert bootblack, in charge of the stand in front of Henry Johnson's barber shop, advised his wife that when they entertained two other colored couples at dinner one evening recently, it would be a nice thing if Mrs. Walker could have some ice cream on the menu.

Mrs. Walker made a gallon freezer of ice cream in a garage at the rear of the Walker home, 1133 West Third. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craddock and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brooks of Fullerton arrived in due time.

Thinking to take time by the forelock, Walker anticipated his wife's wishes, bringing the freezer of ice cream from the garage and placing it on the back porch.

The dinner nearly over, Mrs. Walker told her husband, "Tom, bring in the ice cream."

Tom went to the back porch. The freezer was there, but the ice cream wasn't. Youngsters had made a raid and scooped out all the frigid sweet stuff, excepting about a teaspoon full.

Walker knows that youthful marauders were responsible, for he could see marks of small fingers in the bottom of the freezer.

What Walker said when he discovered his loss is not recorded.

HOME FROM BIG WILL FIND HELL CONFERENCE AT IN 15 MINUTES PHILADELPHIA AFTER DEATH

R. K. Torrens Comments on Actions of the Big Meet- ing In November

R. K. Torrens returned yesterday from the East, where he went a few weeks ago with the body of his brother, J. J. Torrens, who died here. The burial was at Beaver, Pa. While in the East Torrens attended the World's Citizenship conference held at Pittsburgh early in November, the sessions of which attracted international attention.

"The attendance at all the conferences probably was $50,000," said Torrens today, "and fully 100 prominent speakers from this country and overseas gave addresses, fully one-half of them coming from abroad."

"Considerable attention was given to the labor problem, a great capital and labor mass meeting being held on the last Sabbath. Mr. Perkins, Dr. Stead and Dr. Stelzle were the speakers. Representatives of all classes were brought together to listen to the discussion of the relation of Christians to the modern industrial situation. Radicalism was condemned and brotherhood, co-operation and mutual trust were urged upon both capital and labor."

"Most dramatic was the discussion on Mormonism, heightened by the presence of one of the 'apostles' of the Mormon church from Salt Lake City, who addressed the delegates. He freely admitted that the Mormon church still taught polygamy, but insisted that they do not openly practice it."

Negroes Had Inning
"The negroes had their inning in a most interesting conference, which was addressed by Mary B. Talbert of Buffalo, president of the National Association of Colored People, and Dr. Joseph W. Holly, president of the Georgia Normal and Agricultural School for Colored People."

"Prohibition was given a whole day for its presentation, opening with a report of the World Commission on Intemperance."

"Important conferences were held on the family and the Lord's Day. There was a rally of European peoples at which the representatives of the foreign countries took the principal part."

"The international discussion of permanent peace, engaged in mostly by men of other countries, was carried through on Armistice Day. The Pan-Americans brought their messages. A rally was held for Orientals and there was a rally for educators."

"Great credit should be given to the National Reform Association, under whose auspices this wonderful conference was conducted, and especially to Dr. James S. Martin, general superintendent of the association, who went abroad months ago for the express purpose of securing a fine array of speakers from foreign countries, and who, through the conference, held a steady grip on its proceedings, with all its complications and difficulties."

Torrens experienced lots of cold weather, particularly at Denver and Ogden, on his trip home, the temperature being 5 below zero at Denver and 15 below zero at Ogden."

Rude Awakening Due Some People When They Pass on, Declares Evangelist

Lumberjack Evangelist Dave Hill poured another volley of hot shot into the ranks of the sinners last night in his sermon at Zion church in the revival now in progress there. The Evangelist is hitting out from the shoulder without regard to past pulp policies of the church and is firing right and left with expressive sentences and comparisons of the present day.

"In these days Hell is considered only a joke—but it will be a red hot joke to some of these old geezers who say they do not believe in it, and they will get over it before they are dead fifteen minutes," declared the evangelist, who is drawing a big crowd each evening, during his discourse last night. He also took a shot at the boys who smoke cigarettes, and declared that their sight is an indication that the people are drifting the tad-pole route instead of coming from the tad-pole or monkey, as evolutionists claim.

Following are a few of the "high points" in his sermon last night:

"Some people seem to think that if they say they do not believe some things that are in the Bible that God Almighty might as well tear it out of His book—but He will not."

"If the story of hell is a fake, why isn't the story of Heaven a fake, we get them both out of the same book."

"One would think from the criticism he hears on the Bible nowadays, that some of these old high-brows would like to send up to Heaven—if it were possible—and get God Almighty and send Him off to one of their modern colleges and educate Him so He could write an intelligent book."

"If you destroy a man's faith in God's warning to a sinner, you will destroy his faith in God's promise to a sinner."

"Some people want to know where Cain got his wife. Well, in the first place, it is none of your business where he got her. It is your business where you got your wife, and how you've treated her since you got her, and it is the business of some of you young fellows to know where you are going to get yours."

"Evolutionists claim that we came from a tad-pole or a monkey. Well, if you will go down on the street and take a look at that little scrawny, bow-legged, watery-eyed, weasel-faced runt, standing on the street corner with a cough-drop hat on the side of his head, sucking a cigarette waiting for that little taffy-haired girl to come along so he can hook on to her arm and go down to Tickle-odum and buy her a dime's worth of Tickle-um, if you will take a look at that, you will think instead of coming from a tad-pole or a monkey, we are headed the tad-pole route."

OREGON EDITOR REVIEWS THE SITUATION

Thrift and Its Forcefulness In Prosperity Are Com- mented Upon

The following address delivered by B. F. Irvine, the blind editor of the Portland (Oregon) Journal, before the annual meeting of the California State Press Association in San Francisco, is well worth the time and attention of all readers of the Register, as it is timely and applicable:

It is doubtful if America has ever been confronted with conditions so precarious. There never was a psychology so extraordinary. Expenditures are terrific. The people are on a mad financial spree. Normal business principles are dead. Thoughts of thrift are forgotten. A man's hat at $20 has become a commonplace. Portland dealers placed them on sale and the supply was exhausted. The dealers were plunged into wonderment and awe. They are now buying hats that will be sold at $25 to $30.

Nothing is stable. New York manufacturers and jobbers no longer quote prices of goods on future delivery. They tell you the price now and say that the price on future orders will be controlled by the then market. Meanwhile operatives in the factories demand higher wages and operators grant them. Operators have found that any price asked will be paid, and the advanced wage is granted and added with increased profit to the retailer. The public comes along and pays whatever is asked.

And so the pyramiding goes on. People were excited during the war. In many ways they are crazy now. They never saw so much money spent before, never saw it spent so lavishly, never saw it come and go so easily. All have forgotten that it was government money that we have been spending. It was the great sums told off in billions, that fed the shipyards, the munition factories, the machine works, the spruce camps and all of the other great works of production. In all the history of the world, money was never poured into industry with such prodigal hand.

The spirit of those days has become epidemic. Though the great supply source that the government maintained during hostilities is cut off the spending goes on. It is without end or shape or limit. The shipworker's $1200 automobile, and Milady's $200 fur, the housemaid's $150 tailor suit, the stenographer's $200 coat, a woman's handbag at $250, a lady's gown displayed in a San Francisco shop window at the price of a house and lot. These are parts of the long array of lavishness in this extravaganza of expenditure.

Absence of Thrift
People seem crazed with the notion that any extravagant thing, any prodigal purchase, any figure of waste, any measure of profit is obtainable. Do you realize what havoc habits of unthrift are working in America? In Portland in 1918, with an increase of 47,000 in population, we built 266 dwelling houses. We bought 6300 automobiles. We spent something over half a million for houses; more than ten million for automobiles. The mortgage indebtedness placed on homes for the purchase of automobiles was seven million dollars.

Sixty-six out of every 100 per cent who die in the United States leave no estate whatever, and of the remaining 34 only nine leave estates larger than $5000. At the age of 65, out of every 100 persons in America, 87 are partially or wholly dependent upon relatives, friends or the public for their daily bread, for their clothing, for a roof under which to sleep. Ninety-eight per cent of the American people are living from day to day on their wages, and a loss of employment would mean pauperism for all but two per cent.

Fewer than 6,000,000 American families own their own homes. 2,000,000 are carrying mortgages, and 11,000,000 are renters. Every seven years one-third of the population of New York applies for charity. One person in every ten who dies in our large cities is buried in a pauper's grave. These figures are from government statistics. They are a terrifying story of poverty. Surgeon-General Gorgas, who made the Canal Zone habitable, said in a public speech: "Physicians have located the great cause of general ill-health in poverty." Poverty is here directly attributable by an eminent authority to the great American habit of unthrift.

Effects of Poverty
Poverty means dirt. Cleanliness is a luxury. It demands leisure, peace of mind, hot water, soap, bath tub and good plumbing. The very poor cannot be clean, and filth and dirt mean ill-health, consumption and a pauper's grave.

Teach the people thrift. Teach them to lay aside a part of their earnings. Teach them to have a thought of the morrow. Teach them to eschew $25 hats, shoes at $20 and $200 coats on wages that cannot warrant these things.

Teach them not to be spendthrifts and wasters for the ultimate lot of the spendthrift and waster is to be at 65 years of age one of that 97 out of every hundred, in part or in whole, dependent upon kindred, friends or the public for the bread they eat, for the clothing they wear, for the roof under which they find shelter. Poverty is ignorance, and ignorance is poverty. They are twin calamities. They mean poverty handed down from father to son. Combined they mean crime and criminality. Go to the penitentiaries and there study the inmates. There you will find the havoc that ignorance and poverty work upon mankind.

Poverty peoples the pauper asylums, the poorhouses, the insane asylums, the houses of correction, the reformatories and other places of public detention. More than 8,500,000 people over ten years of age in America cannot read the daily newspaper. There is still with us the astounding 24.6 per cent of American drafted men in the late war who were illiterate. There is the climax in the terrifying story of the illiterate young men between 21 and 31 all directly attributable to the destructive habit of nonthrift in America.

Undesirable Things
Lack of thrift is the blight of children. Statistics from the health bureau in the city of Portland are that 5000 out of every 40,000 school children go to school without enough to eat. This is in a city with a per capita wealth exceeded by but one or two cities in America. The facts are confirmed by statistics from health bureaus in other large cities. A starved body produces a starved brain. It destroys the power to struggle. It undermines the ability to think. It kills the power of initiative. It stunts lives and hurries on ill-health. The insufficiently nourished child has not the strength to resist disease.

We have here from our lack of thrift in America these things:
1. Ill-health, wasting disease, and a grave in the potter's field.
2. Stunted lives, inefficient men, lack of initiative, failure and a growing army of the submerged, which more and more increases ferment and social unrest.
3. Increased numbers of penitentiaries, pauper asylums, insane asylums, reformatories and other places of public detention.

And to these we may add the report of the Illinois Survey which declares that the chief cause of immorality among women is poverty and its ally, ignorance. That survey found that 76 per cent of fallen girls had not passed the grammar grade in schools because of poverty, and that there was a very low per cent of immorality among the high school and college girls.

Remedy Furnished

Here we have directly traceable to the one great cause, viz., lack of thrift, the chief danger that besets America today. Lack of thrift with its attendant products of poverty and ignorance gave us an army of disappointed, discouraged and dependent men and women. If there is unemployment, they are of necessity, first among the jobless. Their first thought is to find fault with the government and the country. They are fit and fertile subjects for the I. W. W., the Bolshevik, the agitator and the demagogue.

There is only one movement in America to encourage thrift. It is the government's plan for the sale of the thrift and war savings stamps and the treasury savings certificates. There is no nobler endeavor. It stimulates the individual to have a solicitude about the future. It makes the citizen who owns war savings stamps or certificates a partner in the government, makes him a part owner in his country and it gives him a new interest in the flag.

Thrift enables families to own their own homes. Russia joined bolshevism because her people were landless. Germany resisted bolshevism because her farm tenantry is at the vanishing point. Nobody ever heard of any threat of sovietism among the thrifty people of Denmark, Holland and Belgium. Men never plot against their own homes. They explode no bombs on their own hearthstones. The greatest antidote against the mad illusions and wild hallucinations which dreamers are seeking to import from Europe and transplant in America is that thrift which will stimulate home ownership and lift the uneducated out of ignorance.

An order, signed by Superior Judge Williams, was in effect today, setting for Friday, January 9, a hearing on a petition for the dissolution of the Pendleton Lumber Company. The petition was filed by Attorneys John L. Fleming and Robert J. ## URNS AGAINST HER DAUGHTER IN SUIT

Sensational Testimony Given
By Plaintiff's Witness
In Court

The spectacle of a mother testifying against her own daughter was revealed before Judge West, in Department 1, superior court, today when Mrs. Minnie Burlein, mother of Mrs. Selma Dahnke, who is suing her husband, Henry Dahnke, of Orange, for divorce, took the stand as a witness for the plaintiff and said she did not believe Mrs. Dahnke a fit person to have the custody of the couple's child.

Henry Dahnke was in court on an order to show cause why he should not pay his wife a suitable sum for her maintenance, pending the determination of the divorce action, and a reasonable sum for attorney's fees. The temporary custody of the couple's child also was involved in the hearing.

After Mrs. Burlein had been on the stand for several minutes Mrs. Dahnke's attorney, Charles D. Swanner, put his question relative to whether Mrs. Dahnke's mother thought Mrs. Dahnke a fit person to have the custody of the child.

"No sir, I do not," replied the witness. The courtroom, which was crowded by more than thirty-five witnesses, summoned from Orange and Olive by Attorney A. E. Koepsel, of the firm of Eden and Koepsel, of this city, counsel for Dahnke, was deathly still, as Mrs. Burlein gave her reply.

"She (Mrs. Burlein) is a witness for the plaintiff, is she not?" asked Judge West, of Attorney Swanner.

Counsel replying in the affirmative, the court asked the witness whether she had understood the question correctly.

Mrs. Burlein replied that she had not misunderstood the question. She reiterated her statement relative to her belief that Mrs. Dahnke should not be given the care of the child.

The witnesses summoned by Attorney Koepsel were all prepared to give testimony, he said, to the effect that Dahnke, and not Mrs. Dahnke, should have the custody of the child.

The hearing on the order to show cause was begun several days ago, and was continued until today. When the hearing was resumed today it was brought out that Dahnke owed his father approximately $8000, covered by promissory notes.

At the hearing today an alleged "other man" in the case was mentioned. Testimony was given by the mother of Mrs. Dahnke that the alleged "other man" had kept company for several years with a younger daughter of Mrs. Burlein.

REDWOOD TREE IS VALUABLE TO SANTA ANA

Forty-five Year Old Growth,
Said to be Only One of Kind in South

Standing years ago as more or less a sentinel at the entrance to the city of Santa Ana when the city was merely a hamlet and standing today as one of the few, if not the only, redwood trees in Southern California, a redwood tree at the home of Nelson McArthur, 2220 North Main street, has an historic value that will prove an asset to the city. It is at least forty-five years of age, the date of its planting being untraceable at this time. The nearest approach to its probable age came in information secured today from Ozro Mansur, secretary of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company.

The lot upon which the tree is now growing was formerly a part of a ranch at the corner of Main and Santa Clara avenues, owned by C. F. Mansur, father of Ozro Mansur, Fred Mansur, of the Orange County title company, and Mrs. E. G. Glenn, all of this city.

The Mansurs went onto the property in 1880, buying it from Jas. Layman, an old time hotel man of this city and who built what is now generally recognized as the Christian Science building at the corner of Birch and Sixth streets.

Ozro Mansur remembers the tree as being about seven or eight years old at the time the family located there thirty-nine years ago.

Main street, then, as now, was the main entrance into the city from the north, only in those days the street was not as thickly populated as today, a line of blue gum trees bordering the north side of the Mansur holdings being observable for miles and miles through the open country to the north.

It is said to be the only tree of its kind in Southern California, and the time was when there were plenty of them. Others have had to give way to development and progress and fate seems to have preserved this tree to become an asset to Santa Ana. The tree is a most beautiful one and should be prized highly by its owner. The time might come when it might be the central figure around which an historic association of Santa Ana might be formed, with old timers gathering at its base to create such an organization.

HAS A LEANING TOWARD KENT'S CANDIDACY

Fresno Republican Editorially Reviews the Senatorial Situation

While not committing itself to the candidacy of former Congressman William Kent for United States senator, the Fresno Republican in an editorial discussing the United States senatorial situation shows a strong leaning toward Kent's candidacy. The Republican says:

"The senatorial campaign for next year has already started. Obviously, Senator Phelan will win the Democratic nomination, but rumor comes from Southern California that a 'dry' candidate will be run against him. This may at least keep the Democratic voters inside the Democratic primaries. On the Republican side, the understanding is that Governor Stephens will not be a candidate. This leaves the possibility open for some other aspirant from the south. Under the 'rules of the game,' the south would be entitled to it. In conventions, those rules used to be important. Before the people at primaries, they have ceased to mean much.

"The difficulty in this case is the lack of outstanding men willing to run. E. A. Meserve, who has been the 'program,' made a fiasco once, and is not regarded as a winner now. Former Senator Frank Flint, it is understood, has refused many overtures to run. Former Lieutenant-Governor A. J. Wallace has been considered by the dry forces, but his health may preclude his running. No one else has as yet appeared.

"In Northern California the only announced aspirant so far is former Congressman William Kent, though there are many reports that Mayor Rolph of San Francisco may decide to run. He may, on the other hand, prefer to wait two years and then run for governor. If Kent should be nominated and elected, he would at least have the advantage of scholarly knowledge, fundamental convictions, and long experience in public affairs. He is a good 'mixer,' a poor speaker and a brilliant writer. In many respects he resembles Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, though their views on some issues, are far from agreeing.

"Though a millionaire, Kent has rather radical economic views. At any more partisan time than this, or in a more partisan state than California, his running for a party Republican nomination would be incongruous. He has affiliated with various parties and with none, and has been, on the tariff commission, a member of President Wilson's administration.

"As an independent candidate, he has defeated regular Republican nominees for congress. Nevertheless, in California at this time there is nothing absurd in this. He is probably as 'Republican' as most of the voters in the Republican primaries.

"Without committing ourselves in a field in which the nominations are not yet closed, the announcement of Kent as an aspirant at least introduces an interesting element, with the rather unusual factor of education and intelligence."

AFFRAY EVIDENCE HOPELESS TANGLE

After more than two hours had been spent in justice court in efforts to disentangle a hopelessly inextricable mass of facts and alleged facts in connection with an alleged cutting affray at Buena Park recently, Jeronimo Hernandez today stood cleared of the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, preferred by Mariano Casillas.

While witnesses did not talk "of ships and shoes and sealing wax," they did talk of cabbages, and of many other things, with the result that the deeper that Deputy District Attorney Alex P. Nelson went into the case, well, the deeper he got into it.

Among the ingredients that went

Whittier's Chief of Police Nervous At Marriage Bureau!

CHIEF OF POLICE EDGAR ESSLEY, of Whittier, probably is one of the coolest of "the finest" when it comes to the discharge of his official duties, but when it comes to a question of writing out an application for a marriage license, which he did at the court house today, in the presence of County Clerk J. M. (Cupid) Backs, he is—well just a wee bit fidgety, to say the least.

Also, Caroline Clarisa Laurence, an attractive widow, to whom Chief Essley was married later by Justice John B. Cox, is not too nonchalant, when writing out an application designed to allow her to enter the bonds of matrimony.

In the application blanks, there are two spaces in which the number of previous marriages of the prospective bride and groom must be given. In preparing the first draft, Essley gave the number of his previous marriages as 23, and the bride hers as 21. Clerk Backs obligingly called attention to the errors, the application was rewritten and the couple went on their way.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Merritt of Pasadena, and nephew of H. S. Merritt, sustained a badly crushed leg, a broken knee cap and other injuries, resulting in his being taken to the Anaheim sanitarium, it was known here today. The accident occurred as Merritt was proceeding toward Balboa. Merritt's leg may have to be amputated. No trace of the automobile has been found, it was said.

Only candies made in Los Angeles, and no candies made in the east, have been bought by the Lion Candy Kitchen, to carry it over the sugar shortage, Willard Smith, proprietor of the establishment, said today. "We have never handled or sold any candies outside the home-made candies we make ourselves and the Christmas and special candies made by three of the biggest manufacturing concerns in Los Angeles," said Smith, who is an indefatigable booster for Southern California, and things made in this section.

PAYS $15 ON CHARGE OF FATHER-IN-LAW

Accused by his father-in-law, J. T. Crowell, of battery, F. J. Gist today was found guilty in justice court and fined $15, which was paid. Testimony was given tending to show that Crowell raised the rent on premises Gist was occupying from $8 to $9 per month. It appeared that the alleged altercation resulting in the battery complaint was the culmination of a number of domestic difficulties in the families of the two parties. M. B. Wellington appeared as attorney for Gist.

MYSTERY ESCAPE FROM HOSPITAL IS PUZZLE

Tightly Bolted and Locked
Room Fails to Hold Man
Arrested at Beach

Called to the county hospital by one of the most startling mysteries reported from there in the history of the institution, Under Sheriff Jack Iman today investigated the circumstances surrounding the escape, from a securely locked and bolted room in the psychopathic ward, of a man describing himself as Fred Lamb, of Long Beach, who was arrested by City Marshal Ed French of Huntington Beach, following complaints that Lamb was mysteriously wandering about the country west of Wintersburg.

Under Sheriff Iman and Constable Jesse Elliott went to Huntington Beach late yesterday afternoon and brought Lamb to the county hospital. The man gave his address to the officers, and said he had been hunting places where he might be able to trap skunks. Iman and Elliott lodged Lamb in the psychopathic ward for safekeeping, as his case would have to be disposed of in Los Angeles county.

After Lamb was locked up, Iman telephoned to Lamb's relatives at Long Beach. At about 11:30 o'clock a brother of the man arrived at the county hospital and asked Miss Hazel Swall, a nurse, to release Lamb.

Miss Swall communicated with Iman, and was told to turn over Lamb to the brother.

Miss Swall went to the room in which Lamb had been confined, and was startled to find that the room was empty. No trace of Lamb could be found. The bars of the windows were all in place and the door was securely locked. The only possible outlet through which Lamb could have effected his escape was through an opening to a ventilator. Miss Swall told Iman, though the bars covering the opening were too close together to allow the passage of a man's body. The bars had not been disturbed.

Iman, while investigating the case today, worked on the theory that Lamb may possibly have been released by one of the inmates of the psychopathic ward.

TWO S. A. MEN TO SEEK ENTRY TO WEST POINT

Two national guard company members, of four in California who according to Captain A. E. Koepsel, commanding Company F, California Infantry, are the only ones in the state who will take examinations with a view to entering West Point, are Ralph Barker and Oscar Mathews, Jr., both of this city, and they were today planning on leaving Saturday for Sacramento.

Examinations are open to any member of a national guard company who is between the age of 18 and 21 and who has had a year's enlistment. Captain Koepsel stated today. The only two other men in California who will take the examinations at Sacramento are two who are members of companies at San Francisco.

Barker and Mathews decided to take the examinations, following the receipt of word from the adjutant general of the state, at Sacramento, that examinations for entrance to West Point were open.

3214 CARS OF MELONS SENT OUT OF TURLOCK

TURLOCK, Calif., Dec. 4.—Thirty-two hundred and fourteen carloads of cantaloupes were shipped out of Turlock during the past summer, according to figures just made public by agents of the Southern Pacific, Tidewater Southern and Santa Fe railroads.

These figures do not include large quantities of the fruit shipped out in small lots by express. Reports made by the Turlock Merchants' and Growers, the Turlock Irrigation district's biggest shippers, show that growers shipping through them received an average of $1.17 for each standard crate shipped. The association's price may be accepted as a fair average.

With thirteen permits issued the past three days aggregating $19,500, December starts off as another good building month in Santa Ana, bringing the total of permits issued this year to $683,764. This leaves $316,236 yet to go this month if the goal of $1,000,000 is to be reached by January 1, 1920. The permit for the new tourist hotel, not yet taken out, will take care of approximately one-half of this amount, but even that will leave approximately $150,000 yet to go on smaller structures if the million-dollar mark is to be reached in 1919.

The three last permits in November were:

Margaret Rumsey, garage at 1132 West Fifth, $125.

Nellie Lininger, owner, J. W. Elliott, builder, repair residence and garage, at 818 North Broadway, $500.

BREA WANTS MOVING PICTURE THEATRE

BREA, Dec. 4.—At the last meeting of the chamber of commerce a committee was appointed to arrange plans for a building for moving picture shows. The committee started soliciting funds for a new building and met with such prompt and hearty response that they are now assured of the building. In the meantime they met a party that wanted to put up a building on his individual account, and should he come through with the bona fides the committee will drop the corporation project. But in either event the building is an actuality.

Knauf and Faul Get Their Price After Wait of 30 Years

PAUL Knauf and Geo. Faul are good sports, and took a "little flyer" some years ago that has increased their cash on hand.

It was way back in the boom days that they took this "flyer" in the purchase of a lot on North Birch street, between Hickey and Tenth streets. Cash of the boom days went into the lot and it had been "salted" there for more than thirty years and has returned nearly a hundred fold—on the purchase price, and not including taxes, loss of interest on the investment and street and sidewalk improvements.

They paid $600 for the lot and immediately after purchasing, credited the profit account of their property activities with $400, for they raised the price to $1000. That price they have stuck to and the lot stuck to them until last week, when they accepted an offer of $1000 from Dr. J. H. Pullin.

They have written off that profit they figured they made when they boosted the price to $1000 in the boom days, for it has been more than absorbed by taxes, interest, sidewalk and street improvements.

They were lame and stayed with the old lot until it brought them what they wanted, even if it did cost them a little money.

WILL ADD STORY TO APARTMENT ON W. FIRST

That he intends to add a second story to a seven-room cottage he owns at 315 West First street, was announced today by Chester A. Watkins, proprietor of the new shoe store to be opened shortly in the corner room of the New Santa Ana, formerly the Rossmore hotel, block. The improvement will not be made before April 1, however, Watkins stated. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $5000. When the work is finished Watkins will have four apartments available, two on the lower and two on the upper story.

Watkins said he hoped to open his new shoe store on or about December 18. Approximately half of a $30,000 stock of shoes ordered by Watkins already is in Santa Ana, in storage.

SKIDMORE BANQUETS CHAMBER AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 4.—A banquet was tendered the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce by Joe Skidmore at the White House restaurant, Monday evening. Those present were E. E. Jahraus, president; Joe Skidmore, treasurer; Frank Hanson, secretary; Miss Overton, Miss Watrous, J. N. Leisch, Roy Peacock, T. J. Sayles, A. A. Wohlforth, D. D. Whitten, Guy Skidmore, Joe Jahraus, C. R. Clapp, Ed. Hofer, Joe Thurston, Mr. Oxford, A. E. Tanberg and Mr. Smith.

Mr. Jahraus gave the opening address, which was followed by several others, the keynote of all being a plea for greater harmony in the organization. It was also suggested that some restrictions on buildings erected in the future be made, with a thought towards the more harmonious appearance of the town, also that an effort be made to prevent the erection of any building, or the planting of trees that will shut off any one's view of the coast.

During this month a drive is on to increase the membership. It is hoped that all the citizens, both men and women, will join. The membership dues are $5 per year. An election will be held shortly to name new officers. A resolution was passed, drawn up, and sent to the Orange county supervisors requesting that, as San Diego traffic has been routed through Laguna Beach since the closing of the boulevard for repairs, the road between Laguna Beach and Serra be improved at once. Regular meetings of the chamber of commerce will be held in the future at the office of the Laguna Life.

R. L. Godwin, 524 West Chestnut, to Mr. Munger of El Toro, $1200.

L. H. Hill, who recently sold his ranch on East Seventeenth to Mr. Prescott, has purchased the Lockett property, in the 700 block on Spurgeon street, the home in the early days of J. C. Thomas. The purchase was made from Claude Lindsay, the consideration being reported at approximately $5500.

The lot has a frontage of 80 feet. The large house located on the lot is divided up into housekeeping rooms and it is understood that Mr. Hill will make some alterations and two double apartments on the rear of the lot, the width being sufficient to offer space for sidewalks on each side of the large house.

Hill is said to have plans out and engaged in securing estimates on the cost of the proposed apartments.

President Believes Group May Find Solution To Grave Problem

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A call is expected any time now for the new round table conference arranged by President Wilson with the hope of finding a solution to the labor problem. Seventeen prominent men of the nation have been appointed to confer on the grave question and if possible find a way to stop the unrest that is causing strikes and other labor troubles.

The first round table conference that had this matter in hand was composed of labor leaders, employers and representatives of the people. It ended in a deadlock and was finally disbanded. However the president is confident that the right group of men will be able to accomplish something in the line of bringing labor and capital together and the new members of the conference will be given the

FRANK HALL BUYS PROPERTY AND WILL USE IT AS HOME

Purchaser Is One of Family
Which Has Invested
$100,000 in Vicinity

J. R. Porter, Orange banker, has sold his ten-acre orange grove home place on South Batavia, Orange, to Frank Hall, son of Leroy Hall of North Main street, the consideration being $40,000. The Halls are bankers and the family has invested over $100,000 in ranch properties in this vicinity. Leroy Hall is the owner of the Babson place on North Main and came here about a year ago, since which time he has bought the Babson ranch in the Lemon Heights district and the Arthur Hoefer ranch on Newport Road, Tustin, at the foot of First street.

The purchase just made by the son was formerly the Derby property on Batavia, adjoining the old W. H. Burnham ranch, cornering on La Veta avenue.

This sale was negotiated by Carden & Liebig.

Dr. Gard, who recently arrived here from San Diego, following a brief residence there, and bought the Darnell residence at 314 South Sycamore, has sold the place to Wm. Keseman, taking an advance in the price. Dr. Gard does not intend to leave the city, for he believes Santa Ana to be one of the best cities on the coast. The consideration was $9000. Carden & Liebig were the agents, they also reporting the sale of the John Irvin residence at 506 South Broadway to E. K. Heikler, a recent arrival from Kansas, for $7500.

F. S. McClain reports the sale of the property of Jas. Graham at 1035 West Sixth to Mrs. Chamberlain and the residence of Mrs. Nichols at 415 Orange avenue to J. F. Richards.

F. B. Stever, who recently opened a real estate office at 222 West Fourth, this week sold the F. A. Barnes property at 708 Hickey to Harry Miller, and a residence of his own at 315 West First to Chester A. Watkins. Watkins is here to open the new shoe store in the Rossmore building at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore, the room now being remodeled for his use. He has evidenced his intention to become a permanent resident by purchasing a home.

Be Young for Your Years

You were taught at school that your body undergoes a complete change of structure every seven years.

This tearing down and building up process of body tissue continues without a moment's pause throughout life.

And when a man gets into a physical condition that the tissues keep breaking down and wasting away faster than Nature can replace them, right then he begins to grow "old".

This doesn't necessarily mean, however, that he has reached an advanced age. Thousands upon thousands of people begin to break down, their vital organs giving evidence of fast approaching decay, long before they reach middle age simply because they fail to give Nature, at the proper time, the needed help to rebuild.

If you are beginning to show the slightest sign of a physical "let-down"—if you are losing your old time "pep" vim and vigor—if high tension energy and nervous strain are beginning to tell on you—it's a sure sign that you are growing "old"—too old for your years. You've reached that stage where your vital forces need rebuilding. Don't make the serious mistake of postponing until too late the assistance Nature requires; commence today to take

DURNBAUGH BUYS BUSINESS LOTS. AT FULLERTON

Old Hotel Building Will Be Remodelled and Modernized

FULLERTON, Dec. 4.—One of the most important real estate transactions which has been consummated in Fullerton recently was completed when M. Durnbaugh became owner of the Fullerton Hotel building at the corner of Spadra and Santa Fe avenues, the consideration not being made public.

Last Thursday the real estate firm of Pinson and Thurber purchased the property and only owned it one day when negotiations were under way by Mr. Durnbaugh to purchase the property, the final transfer being concluded yesterday.

Mr. Durnbaugh recently disposed of his citrus ranch on West Commonwealth.

It is the intention of Mr. Durnbaugh to put in a new front, making a business location of the corner room which is now being used as a hotel office. He will remodel the building throughout and will build a two-story addition on the rear 60 feet. His intention is to make apartments of two and three rooms out of the entire building, except the front lower floors on Spadra, which will be used for business.

He will get possession of the building the first of the year and will immediately commence the work of remodeling and the construction of the two-story addition.

H. H. Hausley, who recently arrived here from the east, has purchased the house and lot on East Union avenue owned by Rebecca Larimer and will occupy the place as a home for himself and family. The sale was made through the agency of Pinson & Thurber.

Subdivision Sold Out

With the sale yesterday of a lot in the Ramona subdivision to O. S. Staley this subdivision is now sold out, this being the last lot on the market. H. Potter sold a 5-room house and lot, 227 East Whiting, to Andrew Gruber, recent arrival here from the east, who will make Fullerton his home. The sales were made through the agency of R. S. Gregory.

Albert Dyckman has sold a house and lot on East Truslow avenue to H. M. Remington. Graham Rascoe sold a house and lot on West Santa Fe avenue to L. Robinson. J. W. Newell sold two lots on East Commonwealth to E. T. Loughboro. The sales were made through the agency of Pinson & Thurber.

Mr. Hemmer, who is connected with the Standard Oil company, has purchased of Willis Maple lot No. 8 in the Home Builders' subdivision on West Wilshire avenue and will erect a home on the lot immediately. The sale was made through the agency of R. S. Gregory.

I. W. McCormick is building a home on West Amerige avenue.

FAMINE OF SILVER WORRIES JEWELERS

Silversmiths and jewelers of Newark—and there are many of them, for the reason that Newark ranks third among the cities of the United States in the manufacture of jewelry—are seriously concerned about the steady and maintained rise in the price of silver. The majority agreed that the present conditions point to a "silver famine" that may prove of extreme embarrassment to the trade.

Lately the price of silver has been steadily around the highest quotations ever recorded in the history of the country. Although stock quotations of $1.20 on ounce have been published almost daily, manufacturers declare it is practically impossible to obtain the raw material at any price. There are a few who fear to buy at this price, realizing that a slump in the market price covering several months would leave them with goods manufactured at a cost so high that disposal of them to the purchasing public would be difficult.

Refiners and exchange commissioners explain that the shortage of silver bullion in this country makes the "stocking up" process an impossibility. Silversmiths, therefore, are forced to carry on a "day-to-day" business with such small quantities of silver as may be procurable.

Ministerial Union Is In Favor of Endowed Hospital

The Ministerial Union of Santa Ana is in favor of an endowed hospital for Santa Ana. The organization has issued a statement signed by Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, and Rev. P. F. Schrock, pastor of First Congregational church, as a committee of the Ministerial union, reads as follows:

"Believing that in an ultimate Christian civilization no institution will exist to profit out of the misfortunes of the people; and, that in the Christianizing of the Social Order, all hospitals will be equipped and endowed for the highest, broadest, freest and most efficient service; we, therefore, The Ministerial Union of Santa Ana, are glad to recognize and heartily commend the efforts now being made by our physicians and citizens to endow and equip an up to date hospital, adequate to the needs of the people, and commensurate with our city's developing life; and we urge all our people to cordially support this movement."

SEASON'S TOTAL RAINFALL NOW 2.86 INCHES

Last Night's Precipitation of Vast Benefit to Entire County

With the exception of the night of September 29, when the rainfall was .65 inch, last night's downpour was the first considerable precipitation of the season, .57 inch having been added to the season's total.

At 7 o'clock this morning the total for the season was 2.86 inches, according to figures kept by S. Hill & Son, hardware dealers, on East Fourth street.

This forenoon the wind continued in the southeast quarter, and it was hoped that this presaged additional precipitation.

Last night's downfall was considered of vast benefit to all sections of the county. Wind accompanied it, but every bit of moisture soaked into the ground, with the result that in a few days farmers will be able to go ahead with their plowing. Pasture in the hills was badly in need of rain, and last night's precipitation will result in an immediate increase in grass.

Practically the only bad effect of the rain will be to hold up orange picking for a day or two, it being impossible to get into the orchards with teams. However, the benefits the citrus orchards derived from the rain will far offset the disadvantages.

One need not have been "the first white child born on Manhattan island" or even the oldest of New York City's from the American backwoods to remember when the name of the Mary Powell was familiar to every metropolitan ear as that of the finest and fastest steamboat using the nearby waters. Still, to the youngsters of this day, she is hardly more than a memory—not even that to the majority of them—and they would find it hard to believe what place the Mary Powell had in minds and hearts hereabouts back in the 60s, 70s and 80s of the nineteenth century.

At her best she was nothing at all remarkable for either speed or magnificence judged by modern standards of both as exemplified in steamships, but no such standards were applied to her when she earned the fame so lavishly accorded to her, and New Yorkers watched her with gratitude as well as interest as she rushed up and down the river, its unrivaled mistress. Did she not give them about the least questionable or least questioned claim to superiority over the rest of the country?

The Mary Powell was an improvement, not an invention, and her achievements had nothing of the heroic in their associations, so there is hardly excuse for a lamenting or even pretending to lament that she is not to be preserved as a monument or memorial. Yet it is hard, or seems so, to those who recall and in a way shared her glories that she has been sold for $40,000 to a "waste and metal company." Whether that means she is to be broken up or is to become the attending drudge when other vessels are destroyed, it is the end of her and an end equally saddening to all old-timers. Why didn't she break away from her dock some stormy night, drift out to sea with nobody on board and disappear with a dignity worthy of her record?—New York Times.

20 ACRE WALNUT RANCH IS SOLD BY STOLL

Will Move to Los Angeles Where He Has Property Interests

ANAHEIM, Dec. 4.—C. A. Zimmerman of South Los Angeles street has purchased, through Ross Brothers, of the Orange County Realty company, the 20-acre walnut, orange and lemon grove belonging to Joseph Stoll. This grove is located about three miles south and west of Anaheim and is said to be one of the best 20 acres in this section. The soil is a dark, sandy loam from 10 to 12 feet deep. The grove is set to one-third 10-year-old budded walnuts, one-third to 5-year-old valencias and one-third to 5-year-old lemons and are as nice trees for their age as one will find. The property is improved with house, barn and pumping plant. Mr. Zimmerman expects to further improve the place and make it his future home.

Mr. Stoll, who has owned and lived on the place for the last nine years, will move to Los Angeles to look after his property interests there.

H. P. Noll, of Noll & Duckworth, who have met with very satisfactory success since opening a tire store and vulcanizing shop in the Grand theatre building recently, was in Los Angeles today to complete arrangements with the owner of the Hartmann block at the northeast corner of Olive and Center streets for the erection of another building west of the Hartmann 50x120, and will be finished in the same attractive architecture which predominates in the present Hartmann block.

Noll & Duckworth will have a driveway through the building large enough for trucks, as this firm is preparing to handle on the widest scale solid tires for trucks.

The firm has taken the agency for northern Orange county of Firestone solid tires and is installing a 200-ton pressure press for removing and replacing solid tires on trucks.

Eygabroad & Fisher report the sale of the second lot west of Max Junge's residence on Center street to Ernest Klug, of Minnesota, who will erect a fine, modern residence.

Mr. Eygabroad has sold a house he owned at 305 Rush street, to F. C. Adams, employee of the Standard Oil company.

W. Brus has purchased a house and lot on Elm street from Walter Hodges "Mans" cottage on East Alberta street from Paul Taggart. Both parties will take possession in about two weeks.

Your Friends Can Buy Any Other Thing That You Can Give Them Except Your Photograph

It is always the thing that money cannot buy that is most highly valued in life. Look through the list of things usually given to one's friends at Christmas. Nothing on the list that carries a personal touch with it, is there? Why worry over the question of "what to give?" You do not know whether they have this or that, but you DO know whether they have your portrait or not. If they have not then your problem of what to give is solved. No fuss, no worry—just come in now and sit for a picture. Then your Christmas shopping is over, and you have done the best thing possible. Get it off your mind tomorrow.

VALENCIAS ARE FEW CHRISTMAS TREES TO BE ON MARKET PERRY VISIT TO JAPAN

Review States That There Are Still Many Cars to Be Shipped

It is estimated that on Dec. 1 there were 500 cars of valencias remaining for shipment. The greater part of these are expected to be cleaned up the first week of December, but it will be well along toward the latter part of the month before the entire remaining supply will be moved. Of the supply remaining, Orange county has the largest number of cars. The balance of the cars are scattered throughout the Glendora, Covina and Upland districts. The windup of the valencia season is showing satisfactory prices. The demand for sound stock is good. F. O. B. California quotations are on a basis of $4.50 per box for Orange county fruit and $4 to $3.75 for fruit from other districts. The deal on new crop navels from Tulare county is slowly getting under way, but the usual volume of holiday business has not been transacted. Whether the trade has been satisfied to fill its wants with valencias in place of navels or has not fully realized the seriousness of the refrigerator car shortage in placing its orders early has not been fully determined, but the fact remains that shippers and brokers have not booked their customary volume of holiday business and there are only seven more shipping days remaining in which fruit can be forwarded to reach eastern markets for Christmas trade.

What business has been transacted on Tulare county navels has mostly been on a basis of $4.25 to $4 per box f. o. b. California, usual terms, although some cash sales have been reported on a basis of $3.90 per box. A total of 438 cars of navels has been shipped from Central California points to date this season, as against 718 cars for the corresponding period last season.

Butte county succeeded in getting an early start this season. The first car of oranges moved on November 5, a total of 61 cars having been moved to date, as against 26 cars for the corresponding period last season. The fruit is reported sweet and of fine quality. Quotations for next week shipment are on a basis of $3.85 to $3.75 per box f. o. b. California.

Pattee & Lett moved a car of navels from the Casa Blanca district this week, but that is the only reported movement of navels from Southern California districts. Brokers are quoting $2.65 per box cash, but no business has been reported.

A larger supply of refrigerator cars has been promised shippers for next week's shipment by the railroads and a heavy movement of navels for the holidays is anticipated.

The temperature throughout most of the citrus districts on Friday morning descended to a point that would have done damage had it held out for any length of time, but reports from all districts show practically no apparent damage done.

The government's records show the following readings in the principal citrus districts:

Corona, 29; Pasadena, 26; Pomona, 25; Redlands, 29; Riverside, 28; Santa Barbara, 32; San Bernardino, 29; San Fernando, 30; Santa Ana, 27; Irwindale, 26; San Dimas, 28; and Lindsay, 25. The figures given are the lowest point to which the mercury dropped. The market on 300s size lemons is in good shape, but on 360s size, of which there is a surplus in both California and foreign, the market is groggy. Fully 60 per cent of the foreign lemons imported this season have been small sizes. California has also had an unusually heavy run of small fruit and the trade has been slow to take hold of the small sizes. The full demand is always for large sizes. The volume of business for this season of the year as a whole is satisfactory and with cooler weather throughout the country the lemon business is expected to show improvement. F. O. B. quotations are on a basis of $4.50 to $4 per box.

Foreign lemons have averaged $1.85 and $1.50 per box on the last two cargoes sold and California shippers have had this fruit to compete with throughout the eastern territory.

Delicate Children

There is nothing like Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic, to build up frail, sickly children.

Her Doctor Advised Vinol

Aiken, S. C. — "My little girl five years of age had been delicate all her life. Last January pneumonia left her in a very weak, run-down condition with no appetite, and she could not keep still a minute, not even in her sleep. We were very much worried about her, and our druggist, who is a doctor, said Vinol was the best tonic he knew for one in her condition. We tried it and you ought to see how she has improved by its use. I cannot say too much for Vinol." — Mrs. LEONARD W. GEORGE.

We ask all parents of weak, sickly, delicate children in this vicinity to try Vinol with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit your little ones. Children love to take it.

ROWLEY DRUG CO. AND DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

Local Dealers Told that Orders Probably cannot be Filled

According to word given to local grocers who are in the habit of selling Christmas trees, Christmas trees this year are going to be scarce articles. The labor shortage is to blame. It is declared that in the sections from which the trees are generally brought labor is hard to get, and for that reason wholesalers who have been handling trees are not promising deliveries.

"We will do the best we can," is about the way they leave it. It is expected that there will be the usual supply of California holly. Locally most of the holly is secured in the nearby mountains and is given around among friends. In previous years very little has been handled by local stores.

Mesdames Poppelwell, Bathgate and

Capt. Hardy of Chicago Last Survivor of Historic Expedition

The famous expedition of Commodore Matthew C. Perry to Japan sixty-six years ago is recalled by the death at Chicago of Captain W. H. Hardy. He was the last survivor of the cruise, and was 84 years of age. In 1852 President Fillmore ordered a squadron of American warships to sail across the Pacific and pry open the hermit nation of Japan. Commodore Perry commanded the fleet.

Japan, because of international politics and prejudices against the western peoples and on account of religious questions, had excluded foreigners and closed her gates against them. Commercial interests of Europe and America were desirous of a Japanese treaty. Commodore Perry arrived in Kuriham bay of Yedo July 7, 1853, and on July 14 he delivered to the representatives of the Japanese emperor a letter defining the nature of his mission.

The Japanese asking for time to deliberate, the squadron went to China, and returned in February, 1854. A treaty with Japan was concluded, in which it was agreed to receive an American consul at one of the Japanese ports. A treaty with Great Britain followed soon thereafter.

That was the opening of Japan to world commerce, and it has since been amply proved that the greatest boon any nation has ever enjoyed was the coming into a Japanese port of Perry's American squadron.

Captain Hardy was decorated a few months ago by the present emperor of Japan, who styled him "the little grandfather of Japan."—Salt Lake Tribune.

Holditch attended a lecture on "The Merchant of Venice" at the Woman's Club in Orange on Monday afternoon.

REALTY MARKET AT H. B. VERY ACTIVE

Ranch and City Properties are Changing Hands Rapidly

The old-time activity is being instilled into the real estate market and most of the listings in the real estate offices are being purchased almost as soon as they are offered.

Most of the activity is in acreage, although there is also considerable city property being sold.

T. B. Talbert & Co. report the sale of 62 acres in the Westminster-Wintersburg district for Lee A. Phillips of Los Angeles to J. C. Handbury of Los Angeles for a consideration of $18,500; 20 acres on the boulevard, south of Wintersburg for John Cady to J. T. Worthy, consideration, $10,500; 29 acres in the Talbert district from J. W. Frank of Hynes, to A. Frank Linder, consideration, $3,500; 10 acres west of the Holly sugar factory from W. P. Henry of Irvine to William Whitfield and another buyer in Huntington Beach, $4,000; 10 acres southwest of Santa Ana from Miss Lottie Palmer to W. P. Henry, $4,000; 6-acre orange grove 1/2 mile east of Orange from Z. S. Afterbacker to C.

L. Bergey, $22,500.

W. D. Seely reports the sale of a 5-acre tract west of the La Balsa Tile factory from J. S. Warfield of Glendale to a Huntington Beach man; 2 1/2 acres on Delaware avenue, near the Decker place from Miss Jessie Nemcomb of Los Angeles to Miss E. Constance Perry of Pasadena, $1,400; house and lot No. 123 Eighth street, from Mrs. W. R. Harper of Alhambra, $2,000; N. P. Robertson of Fullerton, $2,000; second lot north of office of T. B. Talbert, Emma Hibbard of Los Angeles to A. Onson of the Huntington Beach Sheet Metal Works, $1,500; northwest corner of Ocean avenue and Twelfth street from Mrs. A. W. Setaior of Los Angeles to Miss Lois Avery of Ontario, $2,500; the C. A. Paul residence at Fourteenth and Orange to Mrs. S. A. Service of Puente in exchange for a 3-acre tract east of the Holly sugar factory; 2 1/2-acre tract on Delaware avenue from Mrs. Carrie Jacobs of Los Angeles to Rev. Charles Coke Woods of Monrovia; two lots on Main street from J. H. Birch to J. H. Shoemaker of Huntington Beach.

METHODIST CHURCH IS NEARING COMPLETION

ANAHEIM, Dec. 4.—The new Methodist church is rapidly nearing the point of completion, with the installation of the beautiful art glass windows now going on. The construction of the church has not been rushed and those in charge of the job of overseeing it feel that an excellent edifice is the result. The large rolling doors separating the main auditorium from the Sunday school rooms and gallery have been hung. They weigh 800 pounds each, but are hung so they may be rolled open and shut with minimum effort.

The plastering of the main floor and up-stairs has been completed and the basement is now being cemented and plastered.

The contractor has foreseen the threatened shortage of nails, on account of the steel strike, which promises to hold up all carpenter construction within a few days, and has secured enough to see the finish of the building.

The building will be well lighted with large windows and skylights. Night lighting will be by an indirect system.

The interior will probably be in buff for the walls, a lighter tint for the ceiling. The opera chairs will be gray. They are now in storage, ready for installation. The carpeting of the building has been turned over to the Ladies' Aid Society which is interviewing carpet salesmen.

It is hardly likely now that the congregation will be able to move in from the temporary quarters in the Masonic Temple before February.

December 6, from 1 to 5 p. m., there will be an art sale of oil paintings at the home of Elizabeth Anderson King, 713 1/2 East Fourth. Paintings make the best Christmas gifts.

Clean Faces In Santa Ana Today Are More Costly Than In Past

A clean face in Santa Ana today costs more—if you have your "chin" scraped by a barber. The same applies to the shearing of the crop of "wool" on your "dome."

Prices again have been elevated by the barbers in their mad chase to keep pace with the increasing cost of living. The tonsorial artists have to eat like other mortals and they have to "top up," too, and these facts together with higher costs for materials that enter into proper execution of their work has necessitated them making provision for swelling their incomes.

The price of shaves has been raised and again it has not—prior to the present increase the price has been 20 cents for a shave and 5 cents for scraping the fuzz off the neck. Some people have the rubber in their necks shorn of their adornment while others do not. For the latter, the increase is 5 cents per shave, while for the former there is no increase.

Today it takes the fourth of a big American cartwheel to compensate the razor for performing a professional operation upon a "mug" and the neck shave is included. It is 25 cents straight whether neck is shaved or not.

Today it takes the half of the cartwheel to have the crop of wool slipped from its mooring on to the floor of the tonsorial emporium as against 40 cents prevailing in recent months.

The high cost of living is on the skid alright—but it is being pulled up the skid instead of down.

AL BAHRS APPRECIATED COURTESY OF SATURDAY

That the members of Al Bahr Shrine, San Diego, appreciated the courtesy of local Shriners in providing coffee and cigars in connection with their lunch in this city last Saturday, is evidenced by a letter received from Sheriff James C. Byers this morning by City Marshal Jernigan.

"Permit me on behalf of Al Bahr Shrine to express our very great appreciation of the efficient and courteous manner in which we were escorted through Orange county by your traffic officers," he writes. "Also for the splendid reception at Santa Ana. We are all agreed that the lunch hour at Santa Ana constituted one of the most pleasant features of our pilgrimage."
